Ticket Sales Spurred As Date Draws Nearer For 1st Annual Rodeo

Ticket sales for the First Annual Torrance Rodeo, scheduled for the Torrance Municipal Park, Sunday afternoon, Oct. 24, have been so heavy the past few days that H. C. Callihan, manager of the first great Western show ever held in this section, advises all who want to be sure of seats to buy their tickets at the Beacon Drug store in Torrance at once.

Seating Limited

With seating capacity limited, the members of the Torrance Rodeo committee want everyone to see the show that can, but when the park is filled it will be just too bad—it won't hold any more, the manager insists.

Reason for the big demand is the many attractive features that have been arranged, and the intense interest of local folks in Western shows, he figures.

With the arranging of final details for the "bucking stock" being secured, George Demerec, well known throughout the West for his fine aggregation of bronchos, bulls and steers that are the toughest in the country to ride, Callihan has agreed to add more money to the purses in the various events, as these horses and bulls offer mighty tough opposition to the man or woman who essays to retain his seat for the prescribed time after the animals leave the bucking chute.

An old cowboy, in point of service, not age, Callihan is carefully checking the names of the large list of men and women who have asked permission to enter the contests which include broncho riding, bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping and bull-dogging.

"We have plenty of men riders lined up, although I will get the cream of the riders that appear in the big San Diego show next Sunday at Lane park, but I will be glad to accept the entries of women riders who can assure me they can stay on these broncs.

Toni Deeter, 20-year-old glamour girl of the sheet metal department of the California Shipyard, who was selected for queen of the rodeo, wants to ride a bucking horse in the show, but will likely have to be content with riding in the parade and grand entry as she has not yet reached the age of 21, which bars her as a contestant, the manager tells us. She will, however, be the center of attraction as the huge parade winds through the streets of Torrance on Sunday just before the show starts at the park.

Toni is an accomplished horse-woman, and will ride at the head of the cavalcade of caballeros with the grand marshal, Bob Chambers. All those who have a horse and wish to ride in the parade should so advise the show management. Call Torrance 627 or Redondo 7745, and enter as soon as possible, it is requested.

Parade trophies are now on display at the Gay Shop in Torrance. Awards will be made for the outstanding parade horse, outstanding club or group, best silver-mounted outfit, best woman's outfit, plain Western and best man's outfit, plain Western. There will be special awards as well for various entries in the parade which starts at the Municipal park, winds its way on Arlington to Torrance blvd., thence to Sartori st., to Carson, on Carson to Gramercy. Gramercy to Plaza Del Amo, Plaza Del Amo to Cabrillo and south on Cabrillo to the park, where most of the riders will line up for the grand entry, when the contestants and parade riders line up before the grandstand just before the starting whistle blows for the first event of the show.

Invited by the San Diego Rodeo Assn. to attend the show there on Sunday, Callihan and his wife, along with Al Rivers, his active associate in the great Western show arranged for Torrance Oct. 24, will be guests of the San Diego group and the two managers will sign up the best riders there and select from Demerec's huge corral of horses and bulls, the toughest buckers for the entertainment of folks in Torrance, Lomita and the Harbor district.

All entries for the show will absolutely close on Wednesday, Oct. 20, Callihan declared yesterday.

Torrance Clashes With Gardena's Varsity Friday

The Torrance high school varsity football team will travel to Gardena tomorrow to tangle with the high school gridders beaten last week by the Narbonne aggregation.

Coach Winfield was able to discover some of the weak spots in the local team last week when a losing game was played with Banning high. He hopes for a better break with the Gardenans.

While the varsity eleven is engaged at Gardena, the local "B" team will entertain the "B" squad from Gardena on the local field tomorrow.

ELEMENTARY PUPILS

Five new pupils were added to the enrollment in the Elementary schools of Torrance Monday and Tuesday. Principal Bernhard J. Strand reports.

Air Wardens Called To Meeting Friday

Before leaving for San Francisco to attend a session of the California Peace Officers Association, John Stroh, chief of police, requested Jack Hallanger to call a meeting of local air raid wardens at the city hall on Friday evening, Oct. 15, at 7:30 o'clock.

Purpose of the gathering is to discuss matters pertaining to the relaxation of dimout regulations affecting certain coast districts as announced by the Western Defense Command last Monday.

It is expected that complete instructions will be available by the date of the meeting, Hallanger explained. Chief Stroh is expected home in time for the meeting.

DINNER GUEST

Mrs. Belle H. Taylor of 1618 Crenshaw blvd., was a dinner guest Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mary Crail at Long Beach.

HAS HOUSEGUEST

Mrs. E. E. Banks has been entertaining her sister, Miss Sue Finney of Houston, Tex., for the past two weeks.

NEWCOMERS?

YOU ARE INVITED TO VISIT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD SAFEWAY

One of the first things a family looks for when it moves to a new community is a reliable food store. Many of the "newcomers" to this area have been trading with Safeway at their former home, and are pleased to find these friendly stores waiting to serve them here. However, if a Safeway store is not familiar to you, we extend a special invitation to you. We are sure that you'll recognize many of the brands of foods that we sell, and that you'll like our way of doing business.

HERE YOU'LL FIND MANY FAMILIAR BRANDS—PRICED LOW!
