These were missing, but her bus ticket, baggage checks and ration books, also a letter from Mrs. Anderson were unharmed. The purse was delivered to the Anderson residence by Mr. Paull after having obtained the address through the letter to Mrs. Dodson.

Gauchos Beat Torrance by 9 to 6 Score

Despite a very bad ten minutes of the first quarter, when Narbonne's title-touted grid-ers looked like they were doomed to sure defeat at the hands of their traditional rivals, Torrance high, the Gauchos managed to eke out a 9 to 6 victory on the Narbonne field last Friday afternoon.

A number of things happened in the first five minutes of play including a multiplicity of fumbles by the Narbonne back field, a couple of penalties and some worse than mediocre playing on the part of Coach Loughborough's charges. As a result Torrance was practically handed a touchdown on a silver platter.

However, there are a couple of pretty fair backs in that Torrance aggregation, in the persons of Leech and Intermill, and these two boys played football all the time.

Townsend Club No 1

We received compliments galore about our Halloween party last week. It just "ghost" to show what loyal team-work can do.

Almost a hundred guests were served refreshments. Club presidents and their officers were present from Manhattan, Redondo, San Pedro, Lomita, Culver City, and from several clubs in the Los Angeles area. The grand march brought forth some very colorful costumes.

Mrs. George Geiger and her assistants from San Pedro officiated as judges. Prizes for the prettiest costume was won by Mrs. Marjorie Locke, wearing a beautiful creation of the Martha Washington period. Prize for the funniest costume was won by little 7-year-old Miss Mildred Ann Brinson.

James Sellers in his clever "Rube and Sally" stunt, and Fred Hopkins with his never-failing talent for appropriate readings, were the funniest specialties we've seen in a long time. The program was appropriately introduced by "ghost music" by Mrs. Paige, under a single tiny green light "for atmosphere" and a solo by Mrs. Mildred Chaney. Tomorrow evening bring's "thank-you" night and will feature our usual social program of games, music, refreshments, dancing and possibly a business meeting.

His training period is divided into four weeks of shop work and training in his skill, then one week of high school subjects at John Dewey school in Long Beach. He will earn a high school diploma, in addition to receiving the rank of journeyman in his trade in 27 months.

Developing boys of leadership caliber into skilled tradesmen, and forming a pool of potential leadingmen and supervisors, the Navy's apprentice program is teaching the "hows" and "whys" of Navy yard jobs. Classes in blueprint reading, related trades training, English, history and government, and other subjects supplementing practical shop work are offered boys in training.

Says J. E. Hollingsworth, principal of the program, "The 50 boys from Long Beach and neighboring high schools who
