Navy Air Cadet Quota Enlarged

Because of recent changes in Selective Service deferment of men under 22, Rear Admiral I. C. Johnson, director of Naval officer procurement for the 11th Naval district, today announced from his offices at 411 West Fifth st., Los Angeles, that new and larger quotas for enlistment in the Navy's aviation training program has been established to accommodate men in this classification.

Men between the ages of 17 and 27 are eligible to make application for this training.

Basic requirements are: be a citizen of the United States, in good health and a high school graduate.

Men who are registered with the selective service system, after being found qualified by the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board in Admiral Johnson's office, will be processed through their local draft boards before being enlisted in the Navy.

High school seniors, 17-year-olds, who will graduate on or before June 30 of this year, can make application and be enlisted directly through the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board.

Admiral Johnson in announcing the increased quotas said, "We don't know how long this office will be allowed to accept men in the older age brackets for this training. The increased quotas will prove advantageous to young men interested in becoming Naval or Marine Corps pilots."

The admiral went on to emphasize the caliber of the training, reported to cost the Navy $30,000 and the post-war possibilities for men with Naval aviation backgrounds.

Seeing-Eye Dog Trainer to Aid Blind Soldiers

Would you like to help supply returned servicemen—who have lost their eyesight in battle—with seeing-eye dogs?

S. Monteith who operates a kennel at 4008 Sepulveda blvd., is offering to donate five pedigree puppies if some individual or organization will assist in financing the cost of training and equipping the dogs for leading blind servicemen.

Monteith has trained a number of dogs for the movies and the mother of the five puppies he is offering to train for servicemen is a famous show dog. Visitors are welcome at the kennels, or Monteith may be contacted at 1014 North Gaffey st., San Pedro.

Juvenile Court Cases Mount 24 Percent In 1943

According to a report from the office of Juvenile Judge Samuel R. Blake, more than 5000 youngsters appeared in the Los Angeles county juvenile court during 1943, an increase of 24 per cent over the year 1942.

The frequency, the report showed, is increasing among boys in the 11-15 year age group and decreasing among older boys, largely because they are entering the armed services.

During the first nine months of 1943 the juvenile court handled 4778 cases, compared with 3822 handled during the same period the previous year. Not all these cases, however, Judge Blake pointed out, were those of delinquents. Some were abandonment cases.

Of the 4778 cases, 3753 were boys and 1025 girls. The number of boys' cases increased by 31.6 per cent over those of 1942.

Juvenile court authorities and the Board of Supervisors are trying to cope with the increase by establishing new boys' camps and by increasing the amount paid by the county to boarding homes for the care of delinquents, abandoned children and mental defectives.

In September a boys' camp was opened near Camp Balady. Another is being established near Puddingstone dam.

Frank McGinley, Ex-Legislator, Passes In L.A.

Frank McGinley, former state assemblyman and an electrical contractor at Wilmington, died at a Los Angeles hospital last Monday at the age of 63 years. He had been ill for several months.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Friday, afternoon, at the Edwards Colonial mortuary at Wilmington at 1:30 o'clock under the auspices of the San Pedro lodge of Elks. Interment will follow in Roosevelt Memorial cemetery.

Mr. McGinley leaves the widow, Norma L.; a son, Corp. Norman F. McGinley, who is with American forces in Italy; two sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Patterson and Mrs. Vera G. Bennett, and two brothers, Edward L. and George H. McGinley, all of Wilmington, and several nieces and nephews.

A native of Boston, Mr. McGinley worked in the electrical field in the northwest before establishing a business in Wilmington. He had been an electrical inspector in Los Angeles and served for 10 years on the city building and safety commission, including the presidency of the board. He was for seven years chief of the police and fire telegraph system in Los Angeles.

His other activities included two terms in the state assembly from 1928 to 1932, past president of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, and heading of a campaign which resulted in establishment of the former Banning estate as a public park.

Gas Water Heater No Place to Dry Damp Clothing

Drying wet coats by draping them around gas hot water heaters may be efficient, but also somewhat dangerous, as E. J. Schnoor of 26008 Pennsylvania ave., discovered on Jan. 7, when a coat hanging over the heater caught fire and resulted in damage to the porch to the extent of about $50.

The Lomita fire department extinguished the blaze quickly after being notified of the threat of an enclosed configuration. From all reports the coat was not only dried out but considerably scorched.

John G. Wilson Paid Honor by Amaranth Group

John Glen Wilson, resident of Torrance and Lomita for 30 years, was honored Monday night by the grand court of the Amaranth when he was installed as the first grand representative to the newly organized grand court of Scotland.

The ceremonies took place at the regular meeting of Lomita Court No. 61, in V.F.W. hall, with the grand royal matron, Grace Mabel Brooks, and royal matrons and patrons of a number of courts as special guests.

Fred Flint, junior past grand royal patron of California, was installing officer and was assisted by grand officers, Marie Fowler, marshal, Charles Walton, aide, and Ruth Keiser, prelate. Mrs. Alvine Ulman presided at the piano and played Scotch airs for the escort of the new grand officer.

The visiting matrons and patrons were courtesy officers for the evening with Arthur O'Dair of La Crescenta and Rubie Sharon of Redondo Beach acting royal matron and patron.

After the meeting the members and guests adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served at long tables covered with tushia colored runners, the colors of the 1943 officers, with bouquets and sprigs of heather for centerpiece. Among the heather were a number of figurines dressed as killed Scotchmen and Scotch lassies. Favors were glass dishes of home-made candy wrapped in tushia crepe paper.

Mrs. Jewell Frederiek, royal matron, was hostess for the evening and responsible for the delicious refreshments and clever decorations.

Baseball Game in Torrance on Sunday Afternoon

By GEORGE PESNER
Rain! Rain! Go away! If this childish plea will be heeded by our very good friend Plusvius, God of Rain, the Northrup R.C. baseball team will play Vince DiMaggio and his electrical workers next Sunday, Jan. 16, at Torrance. Time 2 p. m.

Rained out on their two previous dates, both clubs are anxiously chafing at their bits to play ball.

With the current shortage of paper, advertising has to be cut to a minimum and so we ask our good friends and fans to resort to the old method. Tell your friends.

DiMaggio's club features both major and Pacific coast ball players and it promises to be an interesting afternoon.
