Three New Teachers Added to Faculty at Torrance High

Three new teachers, Miss Genevieve Norfolk of Long Beach, Mrs. Agnes Landells of Bell, and C. E. Pulse of Los Angeles, have been added to the Torrance High school faculty to relieve existing conditions caused by an influx of new students at the school.

Miss Norfolk comes to Torrance from the San Pedro Bandini elementary school and has taught in many senior high schools and colleges in the fields of music and English. She will devote her efforts at Torrance High to seventh and eighth grade social living and the tenth grade English classes. Miss Norfolk received her bachelor's degree at the University of Washington and her master's degree at Columbia University.

Mrs. Landells, who obtained her A.B. degree from Western State Teachers College, Michigan, and took a graduate course at the University of Southern California, has taught near her home in Bell.

Mr. Pulse has been in defense work since 1938 and will take charge of machine and auto mechanic courses open at Torrance High. Pulse received his training from the United States Motors. Upon being interviewed, he reported that some entire-

Karl's Opening New Torrance Shoe Store Tomorrow, Saturday

Karl's Shoe Stores announce the formal opening tomorrow and Saturday of their Torrance store at Sartori ave. and El Prado.

The opening of this store marks the second store Karl's have had in Torrance. The other store was closed a number of years ago and it is with a great deal of pleasure that the company reenters the local field with one of the finest stores in their entire chain.

The local store will be in charge of Al Lewis, who has been associated with Karl's for some time and says he knows only one slogan, "Satisfied Customers."

The store will feature all types of footwear for men, women and children and, says Mr. Lewis, "Any new footwear that can be found in any of Karl's shoe stores will also be on display in our store in Torrance. This policy means that the people of Torrance will have brought to them the latest styles in footwear by an organization which is famous for keeping ahead of public demands and desires."

New courses, including defense projects, will be offered his 75

CORRECT THAT 'PING'

Don't forget to correct "that ping" is the advice of ODT automotive maintenance experts. Motorists in this area are warned not to wait to make this correction if they would preserve their copper gasket or hard to replace aluminum pistons from the effects of war time gasoline. The advice—shift to a lower gear on a hard pull when the engine knocks or pings. Other pointers—Increase the size of carburetor jets and retard the spark "a little."

Industries Want Old Gravel Pit as Refuse Dumping Spot

The Western Investment Company, through Ben P. Weston, president, and representing the Dow Chemical Company, Shell Oil and U. S. Rubber Companies, is seeking purchase of a Torrance city-owned gravel pit, now abandoned, located east of Western ave., as a place to dump refuse from the plants of the concerns aforementioned.

Before any action is taken the city council proposes to make an inquiry to determine if dumping of refuse in the locality might become a nuisance and annoying to residential and other sections of the city.

CIVILIAN NAVY JOBS

A joint agreement has been entered into by the Navy recruiting and induction service and the U. S. civil service commission to make Southern California Navy recruiting stations headquarters for procurement of civilian workers for naval dry docks, it was disclosed recently.

MAKES TAX PAYMENT

Taxpayers of Los Angeles city and county were richer by $156,337 recently because the City Housing Authority made a tax payment on six of its temporary war housing projects in the harbor, with a promise of more to be paid soon.

NEBRASKA PICNIC

Former residents of Nebraska and visiting Nebraskans will hold their mid-winter picnic at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, on Saturday, March 25, it was announced today.
