Seniors, Mothers Guests at Tea At High School

By OLIVER THAYER

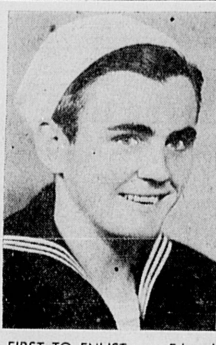

Honoring members of the senior A class and their moth- ers, a tea was presented in the library of Torrance High school Tuesday of this week at 2:15 o'clock under the direction of Miss Marguerite Jones, commer- cial teacher, and the senior B class, with some 60 seniors and their mothers present, along with a receiving host of 35 fac- ulty members.

A reception committee com- posed of the principal, vice principal, senior advisors and parents active in the P.T.A. was present to greet honored seniors and their mothers. After in- troductions, a musical program of entertainment was supplied by senior B students followed by a short speech delivered by senior B class president, Edward Robst, and tea, which was poured by Mrs. Floyd Miller, president of the P.T.A., and Mrs. J. E. Miller, mother of senior class A president, Melvin Miller, senior B hostesses serving.

Decorations in green and white—senior A colors—were furnished by Miss Jones and Miss Ada Chase, art teacher. Assisting were Mrs. Florence Vandermaast, home economics teacher, with refreshments and Miss Armine Janeves, commer- cial teacher, who made floral arrangements. With Phyllis Hargett as general chairman, senior B committees included Bernice Cline, Doris Robinette and Dorothy Sandstrom as chairmen of decorations, re- freshments and program respec- tively.

The entertainment program included a selection on the piano by Doris Robinette and one vocal solo sung by Phyllis Mc- Vicar, accompanied by Norma Levy.

Receptionists were: Miss Jones and Miss Chase as chief hostesses; Harold E. Perry, principal; Miss Elizabeth Parks, vice principal; Miss Clara Shear- er, Miss Jessie Weaver and Ivol Blaylock, senior advisors; Mrs. Floyd Miller, P.T.A. president; Mrs. J. E. I've sworn off "Wire Pulling"!

"I'VE LEARNED that the first rule for taking care of lamp and electrical appliance cords is, 'Don't pull the wire—grasp the plug when you disconnect a lamp or appliance from the convenience outlet!' This makes the cords last longer and may prevent fuses from blowing out. If the insulation on the cord does fray, don't leave bare wires exposed. It's easy to repair by following these four steps:"

IMPORTANT! First disconnect the cord from the outlet!

1. Clean away frayed or crum- bled part of insulation.
2. Scrape clean the exposed part of wires.
3. Tape each wire separately, using electrician's tape, not adhesive. Exposed wires must not touch each other.
4. Tape the two taped wires together.
