Sgt. Kirkpatrick Has Fifth Oak Leaf Cluster

Staff Sgt. Lee W. Kirkpatrick, Torrance, Calif., a turret gunner with a Twelfth Air Force B-25 bombardment group based on the island of Corsica was recently awarded the Fifth Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal, "for meritorious achievement while participating in an attack upon the enemy troop and gun concentrations at Rimini, Italy."

The citation reads in part, "the professional skill and devotion to duty displayed by Sergeant Kirkpatrick reflect highest credit upon the Military Service of the United States."

Staff Sgt. Kirkpatrick is also authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Badge, signifying that he is a member of a Twelfth Air Force B-25 Mitchell bombardment group which has received the War Department citation "for its part in destroying the Benevento, Italy, marshalling yards with devastating effect."

Joining his present group 15 months ago, this California turret gunner has flown 33 combat missions against German held targets in France, Italy and Yugoslavia.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick, reside in Fellows, Calif.

Less Gasoline Sold in State, Report Reveals

Reversing the upward trend registered in September, October assessments of oil companies for California gasoline taxes are less than they were for the corresponding month of 1943.

R. E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, made this disclosure here today upon completion of assessments showing that October taxes of $4,334,090 were $542 less than for the same month last year. He explained that the taxes just collected were based upon distribution by oil companies of 144,469,680 gallons of gasoline, in contrast to 144,487,755, a decline of 18,075 gallons. Collins commented:

"Although this is only a small drop, it is indicative of a substantial change in the trend, since a month ago a gain of 4,468,245 gallons was registered in the assessments then completed. Apparently the October figures mark a return to the downward trend that had been prevailing since last April."

"For a period of five months California gasoline taxes were steadily less than they were during the same month of 1943. When this decline was broken by a gain of $134,047, or 3.24 per cent, in September, there was hope that an upward trend might be established, but the October figures indicate that improvement was only temporary."

Collins said that under war conditions gasoline tax revenues have declined so sharply that he total collections covering distributions through the first

OIL RIG SPLINTERED AS CYCLONE HITS W. TORRANCE TWISTER IS SHORT-LIVED

For an oil well in the Torrance-Lomita area to "blow in" is one thing but for a cyclone to come along and make splinters of a wooden oil well rig—that's unusual.

The cyclone struck "Dawson No. 1" in the west end of Torrance near the Edison plant last Thursday night and demolished the rig in an instant. It damaged some other structures mildly, but the rig—Fred Bever, 2026 W. 237th st., owner of the well, today was still clearing off the debris and hoped to find the pipes and pump in good condition. It is almost impossible currently to replace the $3,000 rig. The well is reported to be a good producer.

Bever, who owns four wells in that section, was absent when Mrs. Bever at Crestline and returned home Friday to discover the loss. He felt lucky, he said, that the twister, one of the worst ones known to have visited here in years, came at night and during his absence. It struck about 9:30 p.m. Timber and particles of the rig were strewn far and wide. The twister soon played out, else it might have raised havoc in this area.

ten months of this year were only $11,296,152, an amount that was $11,543,081 less than had been realized from the same source by the end of October, 1941, which was the last year before rationing became effective.

News Broadcast To Be Conducted From High School

Wednesday, Jan. 3, Harrison Wood, distinguished commentator, will broadcast his regular 2:00 o'clock program from the auditorium of Torrance high school.

Preceding the presentation, KJH technicians will wire the school auditorium that the nationwide audience may hear the usual news interpretation.

Wood requested the school to pick out six students for a panel to sit on the stage and present him three questions each, one from each of three fields which the students themselves designated. Chosen to act on the panel were the six young men who are running for the offices of president and vice president of the student body for the spring semester, Charles Duane, Richard Honrath, Robert Maxfield, Ralph Pegors, Bill Shaner and Werner Sommer, the candidates who had filed their applications, are the members of the panel who will be thus honored.

Louis Sauter, director of instrumental music at the high school, will present the high school orchestra in a few patriotic numbers to open the program. Bert Smith, student body president, will then take over and lead the flag salute, a minute of silent tribute to our fighting men, and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." After that, the technicians will be presented to the student body, followed by opening remarks by Wood.

At 2 p.m. Wood will go on the air, answering over the national hook-up the questions put to him by the Torrance high school boys.

To conclude the assembly he will answer questions from the floor pertaining to questions of international importance.

Housewives to Aid Drive on Inflation

Leaders in the food industry, both wholesalers and retailers throughout the country, are now engaged in a campaign to police their own industry to prevent violations of ceiling prices with the aid of every housewife in America.

This Grocer Consumer Anti-Inflation campaign is a joint endeavor on the part of both buyers and sellers to halt inflation by preventing sales at retail being made above the advertised ceiling price, Frank S. Bathis, Jr., OPA district director, said today.

Instead of going from store to store checking ceiling prices, a shopping around for the lowest price, the housewife, on a regular visit to the grocer she patronizes produces an "anti-inflation" grocery check list, writes down each item that she purchases, the price charged and then compares this price with the ceiling prices posted by the merchant. If she finds the price charged at variance with the advertised price she simply calls the overcharge to the attention of the grocer. Perhaps there's a reason, the grocer hasn't posted the supplemental price list recently issued or is displaying an old list. He promises to get up a corrected list and both buyer and seller have rendered a service towards keeping down the cost of living.

Already, the Community Service Chairman and the Price Panel Chairman of every Southern California war price and rationing board have received literature and instructions which form the basis of the campaign. Local OPA boards have the responsibility for distributing copies of the "Anti-Inflation Grocery Check List" to organized groups in every community. These groups, in turn, will distribute single copies of the check list to their members for checking purposes when they are making regular purchases. There is to be no "over the counter" single copy distribution of check lists from the local OPA board. All copies must reach the consumer through organized groups and are to be returned in bulk lots to the chairman of the Price Panel of every local OPA board.
