

WHEN WILL THE WAR BE OVER, POP?

Well, Honey, I don't know. Nobody knows the date . . . but I do know when!

Yes, Honey, that "when" is when folks who ain't doing something directly connected with the war decide to pitch in and help us win it!

Yes, that's the simple truth! When I come to work and see the machine next to mine idle . . . nobody there turning out the parts we need to build the things we need to fight this war . . . then I know that we are delaying victory just that much longer!

No, Honey, the war won't be over till there is a man on every job at National . . . till this vital plant is roaring full blast twenty-four hours per day . . . till every man in this area has decided to quit doing something unimportant . . . and comes down here to National and helps us win the war!
