Cabbage to Be Exempted From
Price Control

Retail sales of cabbage went off price control June 6, it was announced by the Office of Price Administration today. Sales at other than retail levels were exempted some time ago, it was pointed out by the price agency.

Herbert E. Sandberg, OPA food price specialist here, said that a large 1945 crop of the vegetable is anticipated and that as a result, retail prices will probably be below that at which ceilings would have been established due to the lack of growers wholesale maximums.

ship and established a new record of 6 feet 3 3/4 inches on the following day in competition with Les Steers, the famed Oregon jumper. Stewart went east at that time with the Southern California A. C. team.

In July, 1941, Stewart was named "Southern California Athlete of the Month," by Bill Schroeder, managing director of the Helms Foundation on behalf of the Helms S. C. Athlete of the Month board, composed of Los Angeles sports editors.

A telegram from the War Department to his mother, Mrs. Gwendolyn Stewart, 1145 Stearns dr., Los Angeles and formerly of Torrance, states:

"I am deeply distressed to inform you that a report just received states that your son, First Lieut. William R. Stewart, who was reported missing in action, was killed in action, Feb. 25, 1944, over the North Sea.

"The Secretary of War asks that I express his deep sympathy in your loss and his regret that unavoidable circumstances made necessary the unusual lapse of time in reporting your son's death to you. Confirmation will follow."

Following his graduation from Torrance High school, Lieutenant Stewart entered University of Southern California and enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in December, 1941.

Serving as a drill instructor at Wichita Falls, Texas, until July, 1942, he entered Cadet Flying School, receiving his pilot's wings Feb. 16, 1943, and training in the east as a pilot on a B-26, went overseas in June of that year.

It was known that Lieutenant Stewart had completed more than 37 bombing missions over France and Germany. He piloted a medium bomber attached to the Eighth Army. He had been recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross and promotion to the rank of first lieutenant, and had been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal.

dwellings, $2000 for a two-family structure, $3000 for a three-family, $4000 for a four-family, and $5000 for a five-family building. Above these exempt limits, WPB authorization is required.

Louis M. Dreyes, WPB chief for Southern California, said current shortages of lumber, electrical supplies, and plumbing materials, will probably be worse as thousands of people hurry to do long-postponed remodeling or alteration.

"It behooves anybody wanting to build to count his costs in advance," Dreyes said, "or he may get started, only to find that he needs materials obtainable only under priorities, while he cannot qualify for priority aid because his project is not sufficiently essential.

"We will give no help to such jobs as cocktail bars while more important construction is waiting to be done."

Previous rules governing issuance of priorities remain in effect, with all home applications being handled by FHA and all others by WPB.

Second-hand materials and the builder's own labor need not be counted as part of construction costs. Under the new order, this exemption is extended also to all excavating, grading, and other earth-moving work.

Ceilings were lifted also on other types of construction, as follows:

1. Farm construction, exclusive of farm houses, $1000.

2. Irrigation or drainage system serving more than one farm $1000.

3. Hotel, apartment building, or other multiple dwellings for six or more families, $5000.

4. An office, bank, store, laundry, garage, restaurant, theatre, warehouse, or other retail or wholesale service establishment, including a frozen food locker plant, $5000.

5. A church, hospital, school, USO club, playground, orphanage, military exchange, canal, storm sewer, dam, levee, jetty, or retaining wall for shore protection, $10,000.

6. A factory or industrial plant, bridge, over-or-under pass, tunnels, docks, pier, commercial airport, bus, railway or truck terminal, $25,000.

7. Any other kind of unit, $1000.

Treize Expresses Appreciation for Torrance Herald

In a recent letter received by Grover C. Whyte, publisher of the Torrance Herald, H. G. Treize expressed his thanks for the Herald. In his letter he said "I am writing you to tell you how much I appreciate your mailing the Torrance Herald to me. It keeps me well informed on the events which are happening at home in 'good old Torrance.'"

He also remarked that he "really never thought he would miss a place so much as he misses Torrance." He couldn't reveal where he is stationed except that he is "somewhere in the South Pacific." For those wishing to correspond with him, his address is: H. G. Treize, AMM 2/c, Utility Squadron Seven, c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Torrance Has
Jump on Navy
Academy Deal

was little or no likelihood of serious consideration being given to this subject for the duration of the war, and therefore have not pressed the matter.

"As you know, I was one of the three congressmen appointed to the board of visitors to the Naval Academy at Annapolis last year, which enabled me to take up the matter in detail, and gave me the opportunity to study the scope of the proposal at first hand. I was very much impressed with this great institution which entails far more than the average citizen or official realizes, and of course, the consensus of opinion was that this great institution with its proud tradition at Annapolis, should not be severed. Nevertheless, with the prospect of the Pacific being the focal point for ever-greater Naval and Military activity, I believe they will have to break away from their proud traditions. I also suggested that the air division and the post graduate branch of the academy be centered on the West Coast (preferably Southern California, of course) and there was no serious objection to this proposal. Nevertheless, as above mentioned, I have been convinced that serious consideration will not be given the proposal while the war is in progress.

"Be assured, however, that I fully appreciate the ideal location the Hollywood Riviera section of Torrance would be for such an institution, and you can depend upon me to keep alert for the proper time for the consideration of the City of Torrance's very excellent proposal." While in Washington, many senators and representatives are hard at work on the effort to have both Army and Navy academies placed on the West Coast, the Torrance proposal to utilize a portion of the Clifton Riviera area and the present clubhouse there is meeting with much favorable comment, Lewis said.

Long Beach and San Diego both are putting on vigorous campaigns for the academies.
