

World Peace Roots in Permanency Of Divine Laws, C.S. Members Told

Lasting world peace has its roots in the permanency of divine laws and cannot be expected to rise from the foundations of selfish desires and aims, The Christian Science Board of Directors told the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, recently.

Commending the efforts of the California Peace Conference to evolve a practical basis upon which nations might outlaw war for all time, the directors pointed out that these efforts would be successful insofar as they reflect the operation of God's government in human affairs.

Highlighting the meeting was the election of Mrs. Myrtle Holm Smith of Waban, Mass., as president of The Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Paul Stark Seelye, and the reelection of Roy Garrett Watson, treasurer, and Mary G. Ewing, clerk.

Christian Scientists heartily concur in the purpose of peace conference representatives in California to find ways and means to prevent war, the directors stated. They saw these efforts as making practical the Sermon on the Mount.

In tribute to the courageous struggle of Great Britain against the rising tide of Nazism, at and after the time when she stood alone in her armed resistance, and to those who held on in other lands, the directors stated: "Their consecrated prayers and unceasing efforts have been rewarded with a glorious victory."

The directors also paid tribute to the faithful chaplains and war-time ministers who are "bringing comfort, healing, and spiritual strength" to thousands of men and women in the armed forces.

Stating that the greatest catastrophe to overtake the human race was the loss of the true import of Jesus' life and teaching, the incoming president attributed that loss to Jesus' followers reverting to their old way of thinking and living, or "trying to graft the new onto the old." She cautioned against the human race losing its spiritual gains of more recent years for the same reasons.

The assurance of the defeat of godless evil seeking world domination has made 1945 one of the most outstanding in human history, the retiring president said. While a great deal has been accomplished, he insisted, there was plenty still to be done. He impressed upon his audience, however, that the assured way of accomplishment lies within the lesson of spiritual truth implanted in human consciousness by Christ Jesus nineteen centuries ago.

"Let us rise," he said, "to the opportunities before us. Let us be eager to help solve the political, racial, and economic problems confronting the human race. Let us not fear change, but confidently expect change. Let us resolve to express more of the limitless range of thought natural to man."

That the religious rights of individuals are beginning to be recognized by those outside Christian Science was revealed by the committee on publication which pointed out that recently in California Christian Scientists were exempted voluntarily from proposed health insurance legislation sponsored by Governor Earl Warren and the C.I.O.

The trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society reported the most active year in the society's history, measured in terms of circulation, advertising, and total business volume. The Christian Science Monitor, and other publications of the society, all reached new highs in circulation, they said. The Monitor's Paris branch has been reopened and overseas activities "will be resumed as rapidly as we are privileged to do so."

Care of Eyes Stressed by Health Officer

H. O. SWARTZOUT, M.D., D.P.H., Los Angeles County Health Officer

An eye is built somewhat like a camera. The round opening facing the front is called the pupil and can change size to regulate the amount of light let through. Behind the pupil is the lens, in back of which is the sensitive retina, corresponding to the film used in a camera.

Natural defenses of the eyes against harm are tears from the tear glands which keep them constantly moist and smooth. If objects get past protecting eyelashes and eyebrows, the tear glands work overtime producing an abundance of tears to wash the offending objects away.

To keep the lid linings and membrane covering of the eyeballs in health you must have an abundance of food containing vitamin A.

Correct light for the working conditions is one of the most important factors in keeping eye health. Too little or too much light, light coming directly into your eyes, and light reflected so that you glare are all bad for your eyes.

If your work requires intensive use of your eyes, choose some hobby or recreation that does not. Your eyes need rest, so close them for a few seconds or turn them away from your reading or work every little while. Do not delay going to an eye physician for an examination if you suffer eye pain or discomfort.

Avoid putting solutions into your eyes to make them sparkle. It is often soothing and beneficial, however, to wash your eyes with a lukewarm solution of boric acid.

BALLOON WARNING
William V. Mendenhall, supervisor of Angeles national forest, has added his voice to the refrain about Jap balloons. His advice: Keep away from strange bundles or packages in forest areas.

The Monitor's columns, with both the number of advertisers and lineage attaining new high volumes, it was stated. The trustees indicated that many important developments were in store for the Monitor in the postwar era, and to this end orders have been placed for new presses and other printing equipment of the finest quality.

'Y' Redoubles Efforts to Aid Jap Captives

As the guns of the Allies swing from Germany to Japan, YMCA War Prisoners Aid, freed from the task of serving thousands of war prisoners in Europe, is focusing the facilities of its world-girdling organization on the relief of Allied soldiers and sailors held in Far Eastern prison camps.

This was revealed here by Gil T. Derouin, chairman of the board of managers of the Torrance YMCA, on the basis of a report he received from YMCA offices in Stockholm, Sweden. According to the cable, routed here via the New York headquarters of War Prisoners Aid, quantities of materials have already been distributed to prison camps in Formosa, Shanghai, Hongkong, Indo China, Thailand, Borneo, Sumatra, Malaya, Java, Korea, and Manchukuo.

Included among the articles, which were shipped in 311 cases, were 23,245 books and 4962 victrola records. Twelve of the cases contained theatrical kits requested by the prisoners. Pointing out that, under the terms of the Geneva Convention, the "Y" is only permitted to supply recreational, educational and religious materials, Derouin said that the report also disclosed that "Y" contacts with prison camps had been broadened.

Neutral "Y" representatives, he said, are now being allowed to visit prison camps in Japan, Shanghai, Indo China, Hongkong and Thailand. Mr. Derouin emphasized that no reports as to conditions in the camps had been received. The shipment described in the cable, the Stockholm advice pointed out, was the second made by the "Y" from this country to the Far East and was the result of insistent demands by the War Prisoners Aid that imprisoned Americans be allowed materials from the outside. The articles, long sought by the prisoners, Derouin said, augment those purchased in the Orient by "Y" representatives assigned there.

Among materials delivered in recent months to the American prisoners, it was revealed, were articles purchased by the International Y.M.C.A. with $3500 turned over to it by the C.I.O. The money had been furnished by the union organization for the relief of internees transported to Japan on the fall of Guam and Wake Island.

At the request of the captives, "Y" representatives used the money for the purchasing of soap, towels, socks, underwear, handkerchiefs, and other much-desired American necessities.

Beginning early in 1942 after winning permission of the Japanese government, the World's Committee of the Y.M.C.A. started its rehabilitative program in the Far East. By the end of May, 1943, the "Y" had succeeded in supplying camps in Japan, Formosa, and Korea with quantities of equipment. Included were musical instruments, radios, phonographs, baseball, football, table tennis gear, and more than 16,000 books, many of them to serve as the basis of prison school courses.

Before closing its European work in prison camps holding Americans, the "Y," according to its latest report, over a two-year period, supplied the Yanks behind barbed wire with 1,743, 254 sports items, 244,323 musical articles, and 1,280,046 books, together with large quantities of hobby, handicraft and theatrical supplies.

More Wacs Are Needed, Army Declares

Uncle Sam needs more Wacs! Women between the ages of 20 and 38 years are urged by the war department to join the Women's Army Corps to replace other women who are being retired for overage or other reasons.

As the war swings with increased impetus into the Pacific, new jobs for women are opening up, so that more Wacs must be recruited by a reduced recruiting personnel, created by a shortage of Wacs.
