Being Drafted

More than a wife and two small children are sorry Charles A. Ausmus, 28, of 1929 W. 258th st., Lomita, is going to war. For besides Mrs. Ausmus, a girl 18 months old and a boy born six months ago who will hate to see him leave are hundreds of readers of the Herald and News who will miss him.

For it must be told, Ausmus is the snappy writer about Torrance Athletic Club baseball games whose work has been appearing in the paper regularly. A machinist, he says he didn't know he could write and had "just been reporting TAC's tangles with other teams in this area."

Some of the fancy jargon seen in the paper has been his own creative work and hasn't been interfered with by the editors. He writes naturally with a delightful naïveté, like "TAC backed the flossy three-hit hurling of Dan Cottle with a 12-hit barrage off the slants of Carpenter."

The editor hopes readers in military papers get next to Ausmus, if he has to be drafted. He has been working lately at the Joshua Hendy plant.

Paper Drives
Will Continue;
Need Is Vital

Support of every Southern California home during the summer months was asked today for the paper salvage campaign.

"Citizens may have to take the initiative in seeing that salvaged papers reach a local pick-up agency, since vacation closing may temporarily interrupt established collections by school children, Edward B. Zane, War Production Board salvage chief, declared today.

"If someone doesn't come to your door, it's your move—call up your salvage chairman or local newspaper and find out how to get them to the right place."

SALACIOUS LITERATURE

Mrs. Ralph Lewis, public welfare chairman of Tenth District, P.T.A., has asked that any information which will aid in the elimination of salacious literature from newsstands and in the mails be sent to Rev. TAC Scores 5-3
in 'Alley Brawl'
With Gardena

The largest crowd of the season overflowed Gardena Park Sunday to watch the hard-hitting Torrance A. C. overpower Gardena 5-3 in a Pier 6 back alley brawl.

T. A. C. backed the flossy 3-hit hurling of Don Cottle with a 12 hit barrage off the slants of Carpenter, Don Cottle, flashing the sharpest curve ball in this district in many weeks, allowed nary a hit till the sixth inning, and were it not for his own wildness coupled with two errors by team mates he would have shut out the hard-hitting Gardena nine.

T. A. C. started the scoring in the third when Wells doubled and scored on Graber's single. Lefty O'Reagan made it 2-0 by working a perfect squeeze play, to score Kuhn who had singled. Carpenter walked in another run in the sixth making it 3-0.

Gardena gave the home fans something to cheer about in the sixth when they got their first base hit coupled with an error by Graber to score their first run. The Gardena nine tied it up by dint of an error, one hit and some smart base running in the seventh.

T. A. C. came back in a thrilling eighth inning to score twice and that was the ball game.

Hustling "Buck" Kuhn started things off in the eighth with his second hit of the day and raced all the way to third when Wells hard grounder was juggled.

O'Reagan, with the squeeze play on again, laid down a perfect bunt, scoring Kuhn and putting Wells on third, and Paul Graber came through with a bingle scoring Wells.

Gardena fought back hard and had the tying run on base when Cottle got Houtglin to ground out for the third out.

The Torrance nine was pleasantly surprised at the large group of local fans that traveled to Gardena to support the team and Manager Ausmus has Ray French's promise to schedule Gardena at Torrance in the immediate future.

Next Sunday local fans will be treated to a double header. First game, against the Douglas Bombers starts at 1 o'clock. The second game, Dix Manufacturing, will start at 3 o'clock at Torrance Park.

Wm. A. Barnett
Decorated With Bronze Star

Pfc. William A. Barnett, III, 23, of Torrance, recently was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in combat on the Fifth Army front during the Italian campaign.

He is with the reconnaissance crew of the 618th Field Artillery Battalion, Tenth Mountain Division.

During an assault on an enemy held mountain, Barnett was a member of a forward observation party who accompanied the attacking troops throughout the operation. The advance was made through difficult terrain and under a terrific barrage of mortar, artillery and small arms fire. Though heavily loaded with equipment, he kept up with the leading elements while they successfully stormed and captured the summit.

"Under cover of darkness, Barnett went forward to establish an artillery observation post, which was to enable his battalion to direct supporting fire for the infantry in the repulsion of counterattacks and in the maintenance of their position," the citation stated.

He entered military service from Torrance, Calif. His father, William A. Barnett, II, lives at 2007 Andreo st.

Guard Issues
Call to Men
To Enlist

A "Call to the Colors" to every available Southern California man between the ages of 18 and 64, has been issued by Col. John C. French, commanding officer of all State Guard troops in Southern California. The call is effective until all State Guard units are brought to full strength, as ordered by Adjutant Gen. Victor R. Hansen in a communication to all unit commanders of the Guard.

The reason given by General Hansen and Colonel French is the increasing possibility of wartime emergencies growing out of the Japanese bomb-bombardments which are landing on the West Coast.

In his communication to group, battalion, company and platoon commanders, Colonel French points out that the balloons thus far may be considered largely experimental in character, but that they may be developed into a drastic and serious danger to the peace and security of Southern California. "We should take every precautionary measure to be prepared for any emergency growing out of the present situation," Colonel French said.

Men between the ages of 18 and 64, who can pass a reasonable physical examination are needed to bring each "Home Town" unit of the State Guard to full authorized strength. Such men are urged to volunteer to their local State Guard unit for the period of the emergency. Two or three hours a week of special training is all of the time that is required. Additional training is available if desired. Under California law, Colonel French pointed out, no unit of the Guard can be called to duty, even in emergency, beyond the confines of its home county.
