

M. M. Perovich On Way Home From Europe

Staff Sgt. Marco M. Perovich is enroute home from the European Theatre of Operation with the veteran "Bloody Bucket" Division, which in eight months saw vicious combat action from Normandy's hedgerows to the heart of the Reich.

The 28th quit its occupational duties in Germany, July 5 and moved to Camp Pittsburg, one of Assembly Area Command's seventeen redeployment camps near Reims.

Entering action July 30, 1944, at St. Lo, the "Bloody Bucket" men battled across Normandy, paraded through Paris, proceeded through Belgium and Luxembourg, and smashed into the Siegfried Line, September 11—the first troops to enter Germany in strength.

After its November fight in Hurtgen Forest, the 28th moved to the "quiet" Luxembourg sector. On December 16, it caught the full force of Von Rundstedt's Ardennes offensive. Quickly recuperating, the 28th moved south to help liberate Colmar in Alsace and drive to the Rhine.

Within a month, it was again at the Rhine near Coblenz. Staff Sergeant Perovich is the son of Annie Perovich, 2067 Carson st.

He holds the following decorations: Campaign stars for the Normandy-Northern France-Ardennes-Rhineland-Central Europe and Colmar Liberation, Eto Ribbon, Bronze Plaque, Good Conduct Medal and ribbon.

MILLION FLYING HOURS

HOW'S THE HEALTH OF YOUR HOUSE?

If your house is in the same war-worn state as millions of others, it will need a lot of doctoring. That may call for roofers, painters, carpenters, plumbers, or other experienced men in the building trades.

The first step is to decide what repairs or improvements your house requires. Then consult an architect or builder... or a contractor. Let him give you an estimate of the cost, then apply at the nearest branch of Bank of America for a convenient, low-cost FHA-Timpany loan.

The Government now permits loans without priorities for home repair, alteration, or improvement for as much as $1,000 and allows 18 months to repay.

If your house needs a new lease on life, arrange a modernization loan at this bank.

TONS OF BOMBS

Planes of the Fifth Air Force, under the command of Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whithead, knocked the Nip back for the first six months of this year with more than 63,000 tons of bombs.

NO COAST TOO DISTANT

On every invasion front in the world, in the lonely wastes of the Atlantic and Pacific, in the great ice fields of Greenland and Labrador, on our own shores, the United States Coast Guard is fulfilling her twofold task of saving lives and property, helping keep World War II on operational schedule. Afloat, aloft, ashore, men of the Nation's oldest seagoing service will observe the Coast Guard's one hundred and fifty-fifth anniversary this week.

Ernest J. All, Supply Sergeant, Gets in the Fight

Everybody fights in the infantry, including supply personnel. Staff Sgt. Ernest J. All, supply sergeant with the 17th Infantry Regiment learned that during the Okinawa campaign. He was returning to his unit with a load of water when he was surprised by four Japs. He killed two of them with his carbine while the other two disappeared in a cane field.

Sergeant All has participated in four major campaigns with the Seventh Division; the Aleutians, the Marshalls, the Philippines and Okinawa.

His wife, Mrs. Catherine All and their daughter Ellen, reside at 20414 N. Florence dr., Torrance.

Canners Asked To Step Up Production

A national program to help provide urgently needed food for the hungry millions in war-devastated Europe has been launched in community canning centers, it was announced today.

The Community Canning Program for War Relief was organized by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration with the cooperation of three divisions of the United States Department of Agriculture, the Office of Home Food Supply, Federal and State Extension Services, and Nutrition Programs Branch, the United States Office of Education, Future Farmers of America, the Camp Fire Girls, and the Girl Scouts. The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration will ship the contributions.

Users of community canning centers have been urged to step up production ten per cent above all local needs, and to contribute this surplus for free distribution overseas. This plan to build a food pool for war relief will not lead to any reduction in the domestic civilian supply.

V.F.W. Urges OK On Seniority Job Legislation

Richard H. Newhall department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, today urged California's representatives in Congress to work for passage of H. R. Bill 3746 which will provide full job seniority for veterans when they apply for employment.

H. R. Bill 3746 introduced on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars by Representative Harold Knutson, Republican of Minnesota, has been referred to the House Military Committee. Knutson introduced his bill following conferences with Carl J. Schoeniger, Detroit, chairman of the VFW Labor Relations Committee; Joseph M. Stack, Pittsburgh, senior vice-commander-in-chief, and James W. Cannon, Washington, judge advocate general of the VFW.

"The VFW officials acted on instructions from the organization's Legislative Committee after the VFW Labor Relations Committee had for a year and a half been attempting to secure adequate job seniority protection for discharged servicemen through voluntary agreements with labor organizations," Newhall said.

Why the milkman likes you better than Mrs. Jones

YOU never board empty milk bottles. He likes that because they're scarce and hard to replace. Promptness in returning them helps insure continued dependable milk delivery for you.

YOU always use the "flag signal" to indicate the products you want. He likes that for it enables him to give you good service faster and more efficiently.

YOU always leave ration points if required. He likes that because it delays his serving you if he has to stop and remind customers who don't . . . and there are about 250 impatiently waiting families on his route.

YOU willingly cut down on scarce items, or substitute more plentiful ones, when necessary. Honest, lady, your milkman appreciates your cooperative spirit in solving war shortage problems in this selfish way.

YOU take proper care of your milk when it's delivered. He likes that because when promptly placed in your refrigerator the high Golden State quality you prefer is maintained for your benefit.

YOU—and Mrs. Jones—will get good service even if you don't do these things. Golden State milkmen try to give every customer good service. But these extra considerations make him think of you as one of the customers he likes best . . . and you can see that they do bring you some extra benefits.

You strike it RICH in 'Golden State'

Please return empty milk bottles. Right now there's a shortage of milk bottles that's so serious some folks may even have to do without milk unless empty bottles are returned promptly. New bottles are practically impossible to get. Please return empties to your Golden State man or to your grocer.
GOLDEN STATE COMPANY, LTD.

The homemakers corner

by Barbara Tate for Golden State

From Soup to Nuts

Good Golden State Milk can add its richness and fine nutritive value from beginning to end of a meal. Here are recipes for the start and for the finish that will win appreciation from your well-fed family.

Potato Soup

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 3 cups raw, large-cubed potatoes | 2 tbsp. chopped celery leaves |
| 1/2 medium onion, chopped | 1 lb. Golden State Butter |
| 2 cups Golden State Milk | 1 tsp. salt |

1. Cook combined potatoes and onion in one cup water until tender. Mash slightly. 2. Add milk, celery leaves, butter, and salt. Heat thoroughly. Serve with cheese crackers. Serves 6.

Apricot Nut Sherbet

- | | |
|--------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1 rennet tablet | 1 cup sweet apricot pulp |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts |
| 1/2 tsp. salt | |
| 2 cups Golden State Milk | |

1. Crush rennet tablet in 1/2 cup cold water. 2. Mix sugar and salt with milk. Heat slowly, stirring constantly. When comfortably warm, not hot, (110° F.) remove from heat. Stir in dissolved rennet tablet. Pour at once while still liquid, into refrigerator tray. Let stand at room temperature until set—about 10 minutes. Place in freezing compartment and freeze until firm. 3. Remove from tray into a bowl, break up with a fork and beat with a rotary beater until free from lumps but still a thick mush. 4. Stir in apricot pulp and nut meats. 5. Return to tray, place in refrigerator with temperature control turned on high, and freeze.
