

Illegal Gas Storage Brings New Warning

The threat of a gasoline shortage resulting from strikes in the oil industry is causing some unthinking people to store gasoline in their homes. Fire Chief J. E. McMaster in a statement released today stated, "This practice is extremely dangerous. Gasoline is more explosive than dynamite and any storage, particularly in the homes, constitutes a real hazard to life and property."

Your neighbor may need a reminder of this fact—he may not realize that he is not only running the risk himself, but is endangering your life and property as well. The Chief continued stating "It is illegal to store more than two gallons of gasoline in or around homes and the storage of two gallons or less of gasoline must be in an approved all-metal container plainly marked, 'GASOLINE.' The capacity of such a container must not exceed two gallons."

Business establishments, manufacturing plants and contractors are particularly warned that it is illegal to store gasoline above ground on their premises except in fifty gallon capacity portable gasoline bugies.

Careful Driving Appeal Comes From Garland

The combination of a great increase in automobile mileage with the ending of gasoline rationing and the opening of the 1945-46 school term resulted today in an appeal for careful driving by Gordon H. Garland, director of motor vehicles of California.

He pointed out that 454 children of school age were killed last year in California by automobiles, and 10,097 in the same age group were injured.

HAS MEDICAL DISCHARGE

William T. Walker, Jr., A.M.M., 2/c, arrived recently from San Diego Naval Hospital following more than six months' treatment for injuries suffered on the eve of his departure for overseas duty. The accident which caused the Navy man's hospitalization occurred when the car in which he was returning to his base was hit near Torrey Pines.

Plenty Turkeys This Year, Says Food Distributor

There'll be a record amount of turkey and plenty of fixin's for the Thanksgiving feast this year, the nation's leading food distributor predicted today.

The second largest white potato crop on record, a more than average amount of cranberries, and nuts, and plenty of onions, squash, citrus fruits, sweet potatoes, celery, pumpkin and whipped cream, all will be available from now until the first of the year, at least, reports from more than 140 field buying offices of A & P Food Stores throughout the nation indicate. Mince meat is the only war casualty.

Cranberry production this year totals approximately 650,000 barrels, about double that of last year and slightly above the 10-year average of 631,660 barrels. The greatest increase is in the major producing state of Massachusetts where the 1945 yield is 470,000 barrels. Spring and fall frosts last year reduced the crop to 153,000 barrels.

CHURCH BREAKFAST

The regular monthly corporate Communion of the confirmed members of St. Andrew's church school will be held at 8 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 14. Following the service, breakfast will be served in the parish house. The second Sunday of every month is the regular date. Breakfast is prepared by mothers of the children, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frances Wheeler.

Amateur Boxing 'Catches On' At Wilmington

Amateur boxing appears to have "caught on" with fight fans of the Harbor area — and another colorful, well-matched show is on tap at the Wilmington Bowl tomorrow (Friday) night when promoter-mathematician Joe Craig presents eight four-round club battles. First bout goes on at 8:30 p.m.

The first two programs at the Bowl in this revival of boxing at the "cradle of Southern California's fistic birth" were judged highly successful, even drawing praises from the officials of the State Athletic Commission. Headline bouts tomorrow will feature two of the greatest fighters in the West Coast Navy, middleweight Les Miller and lightweight Dave Gottschalk, in a double main event.

Miller, stationed at Terminal Island Naval base, and trained by veteran Georgie Goodman, will take on popular Shorty Cortezas of Wilmington, while Gottschalk, who won honors in the Naval District tournament last spring, gets a shot at Al Reese, a Long Beach Negro.

Another Navy star, Bob Black, stationed at San Pedro, who is a protégé of Joey Rosenberg, former Fleet Flyweight king, will tackle Tommy Thompson of Los Angeles Main Street gym in the special, Rosenberg, well-known on the West Coast, claims that Black is one of the greatest middleweight comers in the world, even predicting a possible pro career within a few months.

The first two shows at the Bowl drew in excess of 1200 fans each week, all acclaiming the cards as superior to anything in the Harbor since the Golden Era days of the late 1920s.

Ladies are admitted free in accordance with Craig's opening show policy.
