

Service Awards Presented to Health Workers

Service emblems were presented to two staff members of the Torrance health district at the annual meeting, Thursday of Health Associates, the employees' organization of the Los Angeles county health district held at Central office, 808 North Spring st., Los Angeles.

Hugh H. McMillan, 1624 Second st., San Fernando, chief sanitary area inspector, and George O. Isaacs, 333 South Heiberst st., Redondo Beach, were awarded 15- and 20-year service pins, respectively.

Dr. Wayne Ingalls, Torrance public health dentist, chairman presented.

H. A. Young, first sanitary inspector appointed thirty years ago, and now director of the bureau of sanitation, was one of the guests at this meeting at which old timers were honored. Mrs. Laura Hullock Hanson, first stenographer in the department was a special guest. Guests also included returning military personnel who were presented with boutonnieres.

A feature of the meeting was a display of photographs of activities of early health department personnel and an exhibit of present public health services.

Mr. H. O. Swartout, county health officer, presented the 38 service awards which included a 10-year emblem for Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, assistant county health officer.

Officers elected for the Health Associates governing council for the coming year are: Chairman, Dr. Ingalls, vice chairman, Miss Katherine Stafford, recording secretary, Mrs. Marie G. Phinney, and financial secretary, K. A. Elliott.

Mrs. Lola Hoover To Open Gift Shop in City

Mrs. Lola Hoover has completed plans for the opening of a gift shop at 2166 Torrance blvd. this Saturday, Nov. 24. The business will be conducted under the firm name of the "Boulevard Gift Shop" and Mrs. Hoover states that she has been successful in securing an exceptionally fine assortment of Christmas gift items. Among the stock now available are: hand embroidered and appliqued linens, including pillow cases, guest towels, luncheon sets; infant layette items such as crocheted and knitted booties, jackets, sweaters, bonnets; as well as hand painted trays, pottery novelties, figurines, and bridge prizes.

Since February, 1943, Mrs. Hoover has been chairman of the Torrance Chapter, American Red Cross, and she is also a past president of the Los Angeles Branch Council of the Red Cross. She is past matron of Torrance Chapter, No. 360, Order of Eastern Star, and holds office in the Redondo Beach Chapter. A host of other friends in the Woman's Club and Central Evangelical Church, in both of which organizations she takes an active part, wish her much success in her new enterprise.

Human wisdom is the aggregate of all human experience, constantly accumulating, selecting, and reorganizing its own materials. —Story

Lot Cleanup; Setback to Be Topics of Mass Meeting in City Hall

(Continued from Page 1-A) restriction in the Present Land Use Ordinance.

The entire discussion was preceded by the report of City engineer Glenn Jain which follows:

"The City Engineer has, upon request of the planning Commission at its meeting of Oct. 2nd, made a study of the alley setback conditions in the business areas of the City of Torrance in order that the Commission might consider the request of September 24th from the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, wherein it was asked that the rear yard setbacks be removed from all commercial areas within the City.

"The City Engineer's office has prepared a map showing existing setback conditions in all business areas in the City. The lots outlined in red indicate those upon which buildings are at present constructed and the distances from the alley lines indicate the setback from the present buildings.

"The original request from the Chamber of Commerce presented the following arguments:

"(1) There are at least 50% of the buildings extending to the property line.

"(2) Those buildings which do not extend to the property line create an accidental fire hazard due to the collection of paper and rubbish.

"(3) The present setback requirements create extremely unsanitary conditions.

"(4) The present setback requirements are taking away valuable floor space from the owners.

The Chamber of Commerce makes the following recommendations:

"(1) That the rear yard setback requirements be abandoned completely in the business areas.

"(2) Fire Department requirements for passage could be met by designating one-way traffic in the alleys in the business district.

"(3) Imposing parking restrictions in these alleys except for loading and unloading.

"From the standpoint of good and far-sighted City planning, proper maintenance of alleys, and control of parking, loading, and unloading, in the business areas, I wish to strongly recommend against the removal of the present setback restrictions, and to urge that each individual case be handled separately by proper variance procedure, based upon the following reasons:

"(1) A study of the existing buildings, as indicated on the attached map, shows that there is a total of 303 business lots classified under C-1 and C-2 ones. Of this number there are 111 lots upon which buildings are constructed; leaving a balance of 192 lots, or 63.4% as yet unimproved, or not built upon, and only 36.6% of lots now built upon. Of this 36.6% now improved there are approximately 31% having a setback of ten feet or more.

"(2) Torrance is fortunate in having exceptionally deep business lots, for which only a few types of business justify building to the alley line, namely the large chain stores or furniture stores.

"(3) The particular type of business which would normally wish to build to the alley line have proven to be the greatest nuisance insofar as alley traffic and maintenance is concerned, due to the fact that they use huge furniture and freight vans and which completely block the alley whenever they are loading or unloading; requiring other traffic to back out of the alley, creating serious traffic congestion.

"(4) Such, long time blocking of the alleys prevents passage of fire, garbage and rubbish vehicles, which must of necessity travel through these alleys, and seriously handicaps this equipment in its operation.

"(5) Failure to provide such setbacks caused the placing of all garbage and rubbish receptacles, and stock-piles of crates, etc. in the alleys proper, thereby further blocking traffic and creating unsanitary conditions.

"(6) The expense of maintenance of rear yards of ten or fifteen feet is considerably less than the City attempting to maintain the alleys where all rubbish, etc., is deposited therein.

"(7) The utility and convenience of alleys should not be destroyed merely because the value of business property has increased. This increase in value necessarily is bringing in more business buildings, which in turn is increasing both the traffic congestion and maintenance.

"(8) Those business houses requiring a large amount of floor space should build on undeveloped and wider lots rather than attempt to force their buildings against the alley line.

"(9) One-way traffic in alleys has proven unsatisfactory in most cities due to the difficulty in parking and the varying width of freight vehicles which are used by commercial establishments, preventing free passage of other traffic. It also makes loading and unloading inconvenient for adjacent business houses which must wait until establishments loading and unloading large quantities of freight are through.

"(10) The proper use of alleys is designed to prevent loading and unloading on business streets, which in Torrance are unusually narrow; and in addition there is little off-street parking provided or possible at the present time due to the scarcity of vacant lots.

"I would recommend therefore, that the present ten foot setback in C-2 zones, and fifteen foot setbacks in C-1 zones, be retained, and that each request for variance be handled as an individual case, based upon the particular conditions affecting that property.

Inasmuch as there seems to be some inequality between the ten foot setback for the C-2 zone and the fifteen foot setback for the C-1 zone, I would favor the recommendation that the setback in both type of commercial districts be established as ten feet, as the loading and unloading conditions in a C-1 zone is not worse than in a C-2 zone. This could be done by an amendment to the present Land Use Ordinance and could be handled along with certain other changes which my office is planning to present to the Planning Commission for its consideration.

"Very truly yours,
"GLENN M. JAIN
City Engineer and Director of Public Works.
GMJ/wcb

WHO'S CAREFUL?

Sure, you're a careful driver! But what about the OTHER foot? Are his tires safe? His brakes repaired? Is he a good driver? Your life may be at stake if the other fellow is careless. Keep your speed down to a safe level for sudden stops or emergencies.

Receives Award

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

By United Press

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances Viale, widow of Second Lt. Robert Viale of Eureka, Cal., receives the Congressional Medal of Honor at San Francisco for her husband who lost his life in Manila when he smothered an exploding hand grenade with his body to save the lives of his men.

Mrs. Frances