"A hearty invitation is extended to all," according to Mrs. Elsie Felton, president of the Altar Society, who reports that ladies of the different guilds have been busy in the past months making many beautiful handmade articles. All proceeds from the bazaar will go toward the building of the parish school. A baked ham dinner, "with all the trimmings," will be served Sunday from 12 to 6 p.m. Bettie Thomas and her Accordionettes will entertain throughout the day.

The Girl Scouts will be in charge of a "fishing pond" booth for the children. Also displaying wares will be a kitchen booth, cake and candy booth, and a booth in which visitors will find for sale a handcut work pure linen tablecloth, 72 by 108 inches, handmade quilts, table lamps, floor lamp, arm chair, hand-tufted rugs and pictures. The Doll and Toy booth will feature a beautiful sister doll which the Sisters of St. Joseph, of Orange, who will teach at the parochial school, have dressed in exact replica of themselves. All other dolls will have been dressed by the ladies of the C. D.A. Another popular spot will be the hot dog and refreshment stand where hot dogs, homemade pie, doughnuts, coffee and cold drinks will be served.
