

HOW ARE SIGNALS?

Drivers should check up occasionally on the manner in which they give arm signals. Such an inventory often shows a slovenliness that would be resented on the part of another driver.

Lynn Brick Award Dinner Planned For December

The Lynn Brick team, champions of the Southern California Touch Football Association, will receive the league trophy and individual miniature gold footballs at an award dinner scheduled for December 13 at Daniels cafe.

The Brickers go on to the playoffs for the championship of Southern California late in December against a Los Angeles squad. The Los Angeles leagues have not completed their schedules yet, accounting for the play-off delay.

The game between Torrance National Home Appliance and Whittier Sporting Goods was declared a double forfeit and entered as a tie game on the team records, since the outcome would have no bearing on the title race. The Appliance squad also forfeited a game to the Torrance Johns club Sunday when they could not field a complete team.

Roach Promises Major League In LA In Spring

Major league baseball in the L. A. Coliseum this spring was promised the members of the San Pedro Kiwanis club last Friday in an address by County Supervisor Leonard Roach.

Roach said the question would come before the 16 representatives of the National and American leagues at their annual meeting scheduled for early December. He expressed confidence that the vote would be affirmative.

Roach has been conducting a campaign for months to bring major league ball to Los Angeles.

The setup is perfect for a major league club, said Roach. The 103,000-seat Coliseum can be converted for baseball for about $80,000. The climate is perfect for the sport, a survey showing that rain fell only eight times between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m., in 10 years.

Further, the supervisor continued, transportation no longer is a problem when trains run from Chicago to Los Angeles in 39 hours.

He said it would be the best ball park in the nation. Roach is interested in major league baseball in the Coliseum because, he said, he wants increased revenue for a recreation program for youngsters and adults.

SHE TAKES SCHOOL TO HER PUPILS - MRS. LEWIS

Bringing school to the children as the job of the Home Visiting teacher of Torrance City schools, Mrs. Ethel M. Lewis, who has classes for handicapped children who through injury, physical disability, or serious illness are unable to attend regular school classes.

Mrs. Lewis has classes in grades through elementary to senior high school. Her day begins with the loading of readers, arithmetics, spellers, speech and language books, science books, atlas, map outlines, designs for drawings, patterns for cutouts and study outlines and charts into two large boxes as she starts on her route.

One of the special problems of a visiting teacher is to analyze the gaps in learning of her pupils and endeavor to bridge them. Many of the children have had experiences similar to one upper class girl who was out of school, in the hospital, with a heavy cast, then a brace, back to school and out again for another operation, all through her school years.

Pupils of the home classes are eager to learn. Mrs. Lewis reports. On "good" days they receive B's and A's more often than C's. However, on "bad" days the teacher discards long division and language drills and reads aloud to help the children forget aching muscles, painting hearts or fevered faintness.

"Out comes an interesting book from the box," said Mrs. Lewis, "maybe one of those excellent books on other countries with full-page color illustrations."

The job of the Home Visiting teacher isn't an easy one, since she most often finds herself acting as a combination teacher-nurse, playmate and mother, but Mrs. Lewis commented, "Our reward comes speedily when a student turns to us with a big smile and says, 'Why, I understand that now. It's easy.'"

PARKING ON HIGHWAY

It is well to keep in mind when traveling around the country that most states have laws prohibiting parking of vehicles on the road surface if it is possible to do otherwise. All states insist upon no parking when visibility of the car in either direction is less than 200 feet.

This community will be increased by half its present size if efforts for incorporation of the 7,000 inhabitants of Del Aire into the city are successful.

If a minimum of 25 per cent of the voters of the area along the western boundary of Hawthorne, from 118th street to Rosecrans boulevards, sign the petitions now being prepared, the City Council will call a special election for the annexation of the neighboring community.

Mostly a wartime development, Del Aire has been divided into northern and southern sections to facilitate proceedings undertaken by a committee of 26 residents of the community. D. E. Thacker is chairman for the northern and E. D. Delfield for the southern section.
