STORY OF THE PLAY
In a faraway enchanted land there lived a beautiful beloved Queen whose name was Ermalinda, played by Marjorie Lovell. Her father, Joseph Bennett, a mighty king, loved his daughter dearly. Before he went away to war, he told her that in this peaceful valley she would find lasting happiness, if she would devote her life to making children happy.

Ermalinda had a magic carriage in which the coachmen are instructed by the Ladies of the Court and the Queen, to visit all the different countries in the world and bring the children to the palace for Christmas as Ermalinda, the Queen, wants to fulfill her father's wish of making all the children in her land and foreign lands happy at Christmas time, and bringing Peace On Earth And Good Will To Men.

As the play opens Ermalinda is dancing for the king, before he has to go away to war. Ermalinda is quite sad and the Ladies of the Court try to console the Queen with their dancing.
