Lute Fraser: Rocking Chair Gift Has Got Her, She Says

I was framed. Last Sunday I was the victim of a conspiracy that has been cooking for weeks. In my dumb-conscious innocence I came up to the shop Sunday afternoon to attend a party for the employees. This was to wind up the celebrations that had been going on since Friday to mark the opening of the new building. It was for the employees and their kindfolks and friends. After everybody got here Boss Grover made a speech. He thanked everybody for their interest and efforts in making the moving job a success. Everybody had worked hard, but everybody wanted to because we've now got a beautiful commodious home and everybody feels he has more or less a personal stake in it.

So I thought the speech was a good one and well deserved by all hands. Until he got down to the end of it and started to get personal. He points me out, and tells how long I've been here. I stand up to take my bow and am all ready to sit down again when here comes Wally and some of the other boys with a big parcel all done up. I stand there with my wits all a-twitter, but I pull off the papers and there is a wonderful platform rocker.

Yep. The old rocking chair has got me now. And that ain't all. Here comes another paper-wrapped parcel and inside is the tilt-top footstool to go with the chair.

And a letter of kind words signed with a lot of names of kind good friends.

Now you know when I go home nights I sit down in solid comfort, just a-rockin' away. Just a-rockin' away and wondering how to say thank you for such a beautiful gift. How can you thank people for their friendship? No mere words can express your meaning. Only the heart's capacity for pride and gratitude at being so favored can compass the measure. So, if I don't say anything...

Parking Area for Employees Ready for Use

All marked off with white lines designating eight-foot-wide parking stalls, the new parking lot at El Prado and Cravens for employees of local business establishments now is ready for use, according to George Stevens, city engineer.

Approximately 65 automobiles can be accommodated in the lot, which will provide 65 more places for shoppers to park in the business district.

The drive-in parcel post mailing station being opened today will not cause any cars to be routed through the parking area, according to postal authorities.

Tickets Free to Yule Party

Free tickets for a Christmas Party and Ball to be held Christmas Day at Tommy Dorsey's Ballroom in Ocean Park Dec. 25 can be obtained at Gary's Jewellers, 1322 Sartori avenue, Torrance. One thousand dollars in prizes are to be given away during the evening.

MERCHANTS MEETING

Store hours for the Christmas holidays will be discussed at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Division of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce this morning (Thursday) at 10 o'clock. Charles V. Jones is president of the group.

SHARPEN THE AXE!

The fall of the gavel which opens the 1949 session of the California Legislature in January, according to rumblings along the political Rialto, will signal the start of long and heated battle over mounting costs of State government and the threat of new state taxes.
