

Reed's, P. V. College in Minor Division Deadlock

By GEORGE WHITING

Palos Verdes College and Reed's, who emerged at the top of the minor division of the Torrance Recreation League last week, head the lineup in tonight's play at the Torrance High hardwoods.

Warriors Tally Highest Score in Downing ELA

Running up their highest basketball score in the three-year history of El Camino, the Warriors trounced East Los Angeles Jaycees, 73-40, last Friday to score their second win of the conference play.

In spite of the lopsided score, high point honors went to Buck Kettering of the cross-towners with 17 digits. Clarence Witt led the Warrior scorers with 16 points.

East LAJC (40): El Camino (73) Kettering 17, Witt 16, Gaultier 14, Means 10, Edin 10, Brodie 10. Half time—El Camino, 37; East LAJC, 20. Scorers: 2, El Camino—Kutman, 6; Hammond, 6; Ames, 5; Davis, 4.

Hogan, Mangrum, Top Entry List for $10,000 L. B. Open

More than 250 of the greatest golfers in the world, topped by Ben Hogan, recent winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational at Monterey, and Lloyd Mangrum, victory in the $15,000 Los Angeles Open two weeks ago, open fire today in the $10,000 Long Beach Open golf classic at Lakewood Country Club.

Half the field, which includes all the top names in international golf, will play today; the other half gets its first round test on Friday. The field will be shaved for Saturday to 130 low scores of the first two days and will be further cut for the final dash to the wire on Sunday and Monday.

An instruction clinic is slated for today at 2 p.m.

TIME IN PLANNING STAGE

"I want to say to California sportsmen—please don't be so impatient. The planning stage is the place to take time. By practicing patience, better results will be obtained from the funds and efforts of the Wildlife Conservation Board." — James S. Dean, State Director of Finance.

Flash Finish Tumbles Last Year's Cage Champs, 32-31

Ed Trent's 25-foot field goal with fifty seconds remaining, turned apparent defeat into a dramatic victory Monday night as the fighting Torrance Merchants upset Fenwicks (last year's champs) by a scant one-point margin, 32-31 in a major division scrap in the gym at Torrance High School.

Trailing at halftime by a 20-12 disadvantage, the Merchants closed the gap to five points by the end of the third period and narrowed it to 27-25 with four minutes remaining. At this point Trent, who had been held scoreless, caught fire and plucked the strings for seven straight points.

Able Bullington was the big gun in the Merchant attack, accounting for 11 markers, while Jack Turner of Fenwicks led the game with 12—nine of them from the free throw line. The shoemen, apparently hampered by the loss of their star center Dan Moon, flipped in 17 points in the second quarter, slowed down in the third and ended the contest shooting wildly.

In the initial game of the evening Fran Munsterman hit the hoop for 15 digits in leading the National Supply outfit to their second straight victory. The left-handed forward plunked in ten successive points in the second period to remain the cage circuit's highest scorer. After rambling to a 21-6 lead at the halfway mark the National team rolled to an easy win.

Klink's chalked up the highest score of the evening in knocking off Goodyear by a 42-24 count. Neal Roberson of the marketmen and Woody Coleman of Goodyear tied for high tally honors, both contributing 11 points to the scoring column. Tookie Lee, Art Woodcock and Gary Wheaton played outstanding games on offense.

Tartars Receive Chilly Welcome From Ingleswood and Second League Defeat

Please Porridge Hot, Please Porridge Cold, And so were the Tartars last Friday night when they clashed with Ingleswood on the Sentinel's basketball court and dropped their second Bay League encounter, 50-43.

Their game was not so cold, however, as was the unheated gym in which the game was played. By keeping his boys tossing the ball on the sidelines while they were out of the game, Coach Cliff Graybell managed to warm them enough to overcome a 19-point difference and to pull within seven points of a league victory.

They trailed at the end of the first quarter, 20-4 and at one time during the game by a lopsided 44-5. They came back in the second half and tallied 18 points.

Bob Chambers, Torrance's top forward, turned in a spectacular job of floor play and the top score for the Tartars at 18 points. "Liet" Erickson, Ingleswood's lanky center, took high point honors in the game with 23 points. Captain Paul Smith at center for the Tartars checked in with 18 points. With the exception of one bucket scored by Dick Turner, Chambers and Smith accounted for all of Torrance's field goals. This fact, that his guards did not drop in a single bucket other than from the free throw line, probably cost the Tartars their chance for victory, claims Coach Graybell.

In a series of practice games during the past week the local cage quintet has fared considerably better, however. They downed the El Camino Reserves 45-29, and the Spanish-American Institute 45-29.

Torrance's Bees took a whipping from the Sentinels in a prelude to the varsity affair last Friday, 45-32. They defeated the Bees from the Spanish-American School 53-37.

The only squad wearing the colors of Torrance who emerged victorious after a clash with Ingleswood last week were the Cees, who won 37-32. The Dees dropped their game to the Sentinels, 25-20.

Next contest on the Tartars' cage schedule is the Santa Monica game this Friday. Originally scheduled as mid-evening affair the starting times of both the Bee and Varsity games have been advanced to allow the Samohi boys to attend their Senior Prom. Starting time for the Bee game has been set at 5:30 p.m. with the Varsity contest scheduled to start at approximately 7 p.m.

Cage Clinic for Youth Draws 95

Instruction in passing, dribbling, shooting, and guarding were given to 95 boys, 8-14 years of age, who attended the annual YMCA-City Recreation Basketball Clinic held at the Torrance High School Saturday.

Instructors for the lessons were Elmer S. Moon, Milt Isbell, Bob Chambers, Kenneth Kesson and Dan Moon.

The clinic was a forerunner to the YMCA-City Recreation Basketball League that will begin Saturday, Jan. 22. Twelve boys' teams will make up the league. Divisions have been made for juniors, ages 14 and under, and for Midgets, 12 and under. Ten YMCA clubs have entries in the league. Other teams expected to play are Pueblo Dons and the Woodcraft Rangers. The Torrance YMCA also will have teams entered in the Southern California YMCA League. Games are to be played with Hollywood, 28th Street and Burbank YMCAs.

Coaches Honor Warrior Mentor

John Morrow, El Camino College basketball coach, was honored Thursday Jan. 13 at a meeting of the Trojan Coaches Club by being selected as president of that organization. This organization, which met at the Roger Young auditorium in Los Angeles consists of all University of Southern California graduates who are engaged in physical education or coaching activities.

Morrow, who is presently coaching the winning El Camino College basketball team, formerly coached at Ingleswood High School, where he coached them to a football championship. Coach Morrow succeeds Bill Sloan, Washington High School mentor, as president of the Trojan coaches organization.

L.B. JORDAN GYM TO COST A COOL MILLION DOLLARS
