Mrs. Mildred Edwards, worthy matron and Leonard Babcock, worthy patron, will preside.

It is not wise to be too emotional about life's shifting scenes; it's best to keep a balanced mind, not one that sways and leans whichever way the winds of time blow down the world's strange street; it's not wise to live with your ear to the ground, for the earth's the place for your feet.

Wisteria Fete Set for 31st

The famed Sierra Madre wisteria vine has missed its usual mid-March opening—but it will blossom in about two weeks.

January snow and unusually cold weather has delayed the vine's blossoming, and the opening date for the annual Wisteria Fete and Flower Festival has been set for March 31, the latest opening in the history of the 97-year-old vine.

Experts printed out, however, that the cold weather will result in an unusually beautiful and profuse blossoming. The wisteria season, during which the vine gardens will be open to the public, is expected to last through most of April.

HOW MANY COAST JOBS WERE BO...

Pacific Telephone's construction program has made work for countless thousands and added to the West's postwar prosperity

- When you see telephone cable on its way to work, you're watching the West benefit in two important ways. It means new voice highways for the West... more telephones... better service. It also means jobs and paychecks for the men who make the cable, those who install it and, later on, those who maintain it. And putting in new cable is just a small part of our building program.
- Hundreds of new buildings mean work for carpenters, bricklayers—and work for those who provide the materials. They mean future jobs for telephone people. Since the war, we've put half a billion dollars to work in new construction. Much of it has found its way in ever-widening circles into the economy of practically every city and town in the West.
- More business for the baker, the druggist, the clothier—telephone construction has given the West a big postwar lift. There's no way, of course, to trace all the jobs created by just one mile of cable... or one building. But it would probably be hard to find a family whose income has not benefited, in some way, from the money we've spent to provide more service.
- It all adds up—this tremendous building program—to a better West for all of us. It is being paid for by thousands of investors who have provided the millions of new working dollars that make the job possible. Result: More telephones... better service. Yet a few pennies still buy a telephone call—one of your real
