

SEA FOOD SPECIALTY . . . Devilled crabs, baked in shrimp-colored pottery shells and carefully speared with slim, silvery oyster forks, deep sea-green asparagus vinaigrette, a tossed salad and savory sliced eggs, set the stage for happy summer eating. All arrayed on one platter it makes for easy serving, buffet style, with rolls, and cheese straws. Dessert can be apple tarts served with hard sauce, spooned from a chilled bowl with a gravy ladle, and coffee—either hot or iced. The silver pattern shown is Lady Hamilton.

'ANNIE GET YOUR GUN' TO OPEN ON JULY 18 FALL OUT OF SUMMER

Vivacious stage star Gertrude Nissen returns to the Greek Theatre for the leading role in "Annie Get Your Gun," scheduled for two weeks beginning July 18. One of the top stars in last year's season at the outdoor theatre in Griffith Park, Miss Nissen is joined in the boisterous story of Annie by Earl Covert, June Preisser, Donald Burr, Lela Bliss and the singing and dancing chorus. One of the best musical comedies to hit the stage during the post-war years, "Annie Get Your Gun" has music by the immortal Irving Berlin, with the book of the play written by Herbert and Dorothy Fields. The Fields did not stray far from fact in their play-story; for Annie Oakley in real life was an amazing woman and an unequalled sharp-shooter. As a result, her niche in the hall of fame is alongside that of Jesse James, Buffalo Bill, and General Custer. After a colorful personal career, Annie joined Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, toured with him, and became an international celebrity. Her fast moving musical comedy story is sparked by such Berlin hit tunes as "Show Business," "The Girl That I Married" and "Doin' What Comes Naturally."

TIPS ABOUT SALADS

Salads bring a welcome coolness to hot day meals and you'll feature them all summer long. Give salads and their makings extra consideration and watch the whole family call for more. Here are a few tips to remind you of some important points about salads.

Select fresh salad makings and use them before they lose their crisp tender texture.

Be sure greens are cool and crisp. Wash them and discard parts that can't be used. Drain and store in the hydrator pan of your refrigerator to keep them at their best.

If the quantity of greens happens to be small, wrap them in waxed paper or tuck them into a refrigerator bag to hold the moisture.

Serve salads chilled and be sure the plates are cool, too. Naturally, hot potato salad and hot dress are exceptions to this rule. Be sure to allow plenty of time for molded salads to set, and keep them chilled until time for serving.

Chill gelatin before you add the rest of the makings. Hot liquids destroy the crispness of the other ingredients. Drain and chill cooked or canned fruits and vegetables if you plan to use them in salads.

Mix a little French dressing with cooked vegetables half an hour before serving. They need a little time to pick up the flavor. Perk up the flavor of macaroni for salads by adding seasoning salts, a bit of French dressing and a touch of mustard while it's hot. Cook the macaroni until tender—drain, rinse and mix in the seasonings. Then chill before completing the salad.

Add dressing to greens and other fresh salad makings just before serving. Make a feature of salad blending at the table if you like.

When you mix a salad, toss it lightly. No stirring—and handle the ingredients as little as possible.

Add color interest to salads—light and dark-colored greens, red and yellow fruits and vegetables, bright and tasty peels left on apples or cucumbers, dark contrasts with dried fruits, olives and the like. Think of the eye appeal when you concoct a salad.

So up flavor. Use seasoning salts, garlic, lemon and the like when they'll be tasty and select ingredients with attention to flavor contrasts and complementments.

Serve salads often and serve them attractively.
