Seaside Rancho School Site Is Offered Board

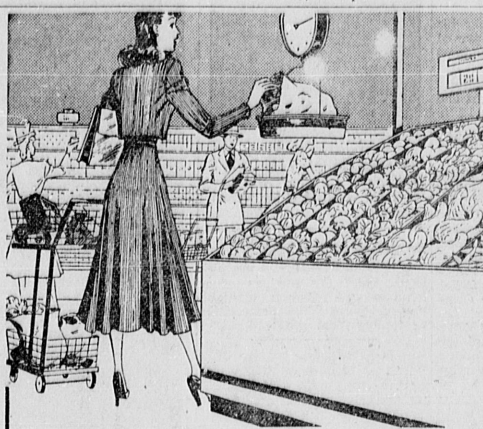

Offering approximately 14* acres for a Seaside Rancho school site, Ben Haggott, tract developer, last week announced his willingness to sell the land to the Torrance City School district for $1500 an acre.

In a letter to the Board of Education Haggott said, "We would want assurance of its the high gently sloping parcel is part of our choicest potential residential land, worth to us in excess of $3000 per acre for street improvements of the adjacent strip."

The land offered is located northeast of the completed tract and would face on an extension of Sharynne Lane. Superintendent of Schools J. Henrich Hull indicated that he felt the board would approve of Haggott's offer.
