

Disabled Vets Consider Citrus Routes Here

Citrus fruit routes for Lomita and Torrance are being considered as a means of providing employment for disabled veterans, spokesmen for the Harbor Chapter, Disabled Veterans said today.

Chapter Employment Officer Frank Keidel, a member of the California Citrus Producers Association, said he has made arrangements to supply disabled veterans with fresh citrus fruits which can be sold at lower prices than now exist.

"The disabled veteran is not looking for charity or sympathy, he is looking for a job with a chance to do it," said Keidel.

Walt C. Gagnon, adjutant of the Harbor Chapter, would like to know if Lomita and Torrance housewives would support such a move. He may be reached at Terminal 2-9530.

Major Small at Two-Week Reserve Camp

Maj. Everal C. Small, 248 W. Carson street, Torrance, is one of a group of Transportation Corps Reserve officers in summer training at Camp Stoneman, personnel center of the San Francisco Port of Embarkation.

Designed to maintain and improve the professional knowledge of reserve officers who would maintain ports of war in time of national emergency, the two-week course includes one week of orientation lectures and tours of Ft. Mason and Oakland Army Base, and one week of field training at Camp Stoneman.

Applications Under Title VI Reopened

Resumption of applications, under Section 608 of Title VI of the National Housing Act, as amended, from approved lending institutions as of Aug. 12, 1948, was announced today.

Local residents are advised that any application under Section 608 which has been terminated or permitted to expire, may be reopened.

The principal changes in Section 608, as amended, are that the mortgage shall not exceed 90 percent of the Commissioner's estimate of replacement cost of the property determined as of Dec. 31, 1947. The mortgage per room limitation has been abolished and a limitation placed on such part of the mortgage as may be attributable to dwelling uses not to exceed $8,100 per family unit.
