Garden Club Officers Are Honored at Luncheon Meet

Officers who will serve Torrance Garden Club during the ensuing term were installed Wednesday by the club's first president, Mrs. Jessie Fritz.

Mrs. Estelle Ewalt, retiring president, was presented with a beautiful orchid corsage, a gift of her officers, and she also received a handsome gift from the membership. She in turn presented each of her officers with a personal gift.

Accepting her office with a few well chosen words, the new president, Mrs. Romilda Scholl, is already planning many activities for her organization.

Charter Members Mesdames Jessie Fritz and Gladys Ruble, were hostesses at a delicious luncheon. Colorful dahlias and tapers which graced the luncheon table, suggested the fall motif.

Members of the executive board are: Mesdames Romilda Scholl, president; Claire Farrell, vice president; Florence Heibert, secretary; Eleanor Myers, treasurer and Estelle Ewalt, publicity chairman.

ADOLESCENT CHILDREN CAN EXCEED ENDURANCE

Most parents, even those who neglect their own health, are conscientious where their children's welfare is concerned. They try to provide the proper food, housing and medical care, and to teach their children hygienic habits.

As children enter adolescence and begin to meet a larger group of people and acquire new interests, parental supervision of health habits may begin to relax. Engrossed by their new interests, hobbies and friendships and unable to judge the limits of their own endurance, young people are apt to "overdo it", undermining the health so carefully guarded in childhood.

Actually, adolescence is a period when observance of health rules is as important as ever. One of the major dangers to young people who allow their general health to deteriorate is tuberculosis. Despite the fact that the human body has a natural resistance to tuberculosis, this disease takes the lives of more young people between the

'BURLESQUE' COMEDY HIT TO PLAY AT BILTMORE

Direct from a spectacular run of a year on Broadway and a season on tour which embraced Chicago, "Burlesque," the fabulous comedy hit by George Manker Watters and Arthur Hopkins starring the irrepressible buffoon, Bert Lehr, plays the Biltmore, Los Angeles for two weeks only beginning Monday, Oct. 18.

This rich and robust play, which has become part and parcel of theatrical Americana, is a story of show business. As "Show Boat" relates the lapping life of a trouping company on the river, as "Stage Door" weighed the aspirations of starlets, and as "The Royal Family" beheld the fabulous foibles of the stars, "Burlesque" glamorizes the lusty life of the once-cherished burlesque wheel. "Skid," played by Bert Lehr, is a burlesque comedian who tours the circuit with his wife Bonnie (this part is enacted by Hollywood's beautiful Rochelle Hudson). Scouted by Broadway managers, Skid receives a portly proffer to grace a revue on Broadway. The second and third act concerns his shimmering sojourn in "legit," Broadway's argot for the legitimate stage, and his eventual homecoming to burlesque.

In addition to Mr. Lehr and Miss Hudson, the cast includes such well known Broadway players as Bobby Barry, Gail Gardner, Charles G. Martin, Joan Andre, Robert Weil, Derby Rogers and Norman Morgan.
