Cooperation Pledged By New Councilmen

Reiterating their campaign promises, Harvey B. Spelman and Willys G. Blount, successful candidates for Torrance City Council, yesterday pledged their efforts to get all of Torrance's widely separated sections "... On the same team, playing with a spirit of give and take to reach a common and benefiting goal."

in the contest were rated at 100-to-1 odds by the out-of-town paper.

With all but two of the absence ballots accounted for in the taillies from the various precincts the complete count of the votes, according to an unofficial taily from the city hall yesterday, revealed the following day, revealed the following day, revealed the following day for the time that precinct comprising hollowood Riviera and Seaside Ranchos-areas who worked so hard on this cambairm. The residents of the city days may promise that I shall give my full support and cooperation to the city manager and to all commissions and dother agencies of the city. It is that the properties of the city of the time that proceed to be heard from, it looked as if it would be Spelman and Blount.

With but one precinct to be learn from, it looked as if it would be Spelman and Benstead, the latter having a lead over Blount of His votes.

With the counting of the ballots from precinct No. 25, the last to report in, Blount came booming in with a 147-to-24 edge — enough to overcome Benstead's lead by a seven vote margin.
