ian way of life.

In Japan on special invitation of General Douglas MacArthir. the one-time Army bombardier, will bring Christ's message to 100 persons comprising a list of those who mistreated him and other prisoners while he was a Japanese prisoner of war. More than 250 elergy and laity of the Long Beach convocation of the Episcopal church heard the Rt. Rev. Francis Eric Bloy, bishop of the Los Angeles Diocese, explain the work of the Layman's Conference and urge support of all members of the church in the every-member canvass now underway, at the quarterly convocation in the *Torrance Civic Auditorium Tuesday night.

Torrance Civic Auditorium Tuesday night.

Bishop Bloy was assisted by the Rt. Rev. Allan James Campbell, suffragan bishop of the diocese, at the sessions which opened with a meeting of the clergy at St. Andrews Episcopal church in the atternoon. Rev. Arthur E. Bello. rector of St. Andrews, officiated at the evening service in the church which preceded the dinner meeting at the Civic Auditorium.

The convocation which was attended by clergy and members of the church from all parts of the Long Beach area was directed by Rev. Paul Moore Wheeler, now rector of St. James Church. Newport-Balboa. and formerly rector of St. Andrews Church in Torrance.

The body of 45-year-old Jefferson Davis Jackson, an employee of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitation Company for the past eight years, was returned to his native Arkansas yeasterday where buried will will be made at Blytheville.

Jackson died in Harbor General Hospital last Monday, Furneral services were held at the Stone ar' Myers chapel here yesterday. Rev. W. A. Penner of the Nazarene church conducted the services.

Surviving Jackson are his widow. Anna Margaret Jackson, and a daughter, Millie Ann, of 20627 South Vernont avenue. As sister, Mrs. Donna O'Dell, also lives here, and two brothers live in Blytheville, Ark.
