Camino Favored To Take League Game From Bucs

Continuing their drive to win the 1949 Metropolitan Conference title, Andy Schmidt's high-powered El Camino College football team will display all its versatility when the home play host to Santa Monica City College Saturday, November 11, at Camino stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

Only Santa Monica and East Los Angeles stand in the way of a Santa Monica championship for the Tartars, so far in conference play. El Camino has consistently outscored Santa Monica and Bakersfield. Long Beach and Valley all through members of the conference this year are not in the running for the title because neither team is playing a full conference schedule.

FIVE ENEMIES

Recently the Tartars have been accompanied by injuries to five key players: "Lennie" Don Miller, Bob Hood, Ray Carter, Wayne Bird, and Bob Schmidt. However, all are expected to be in shape for the Santa Monica game, and the local crowd should be able to get an idea of the best performance of the season.

Miller, one of the top ball players in the conference, will be backed up by the power of Bird and Schmidt, the punting quarterback. Paul Bird and the outstanding kicking of Dick Turner. The Tartars' strong line will be led by tackle Ken Barton, and Don Park, and guard LeRoy Owen.

BUCS FIEED

Coach Curtis Taylor has had Santa Monica Bucs fired up and ready to spot Camino's perfect conference record if they can. Playing a tough schedule, the Orange and Gray have managed to win but one game this season. They hope to make amends by upsetting the conference-leading Warriors Saturday night.

The Athletics Day game will mark the fourth game in the cross-town rivalry. The series started in 1947 with a 7-6 Coastal victory. In 1948 the Bucs made it two to a row—21-18. Andy Schmidt's eleven got revenge last year, 24-6, and expect to even the series in this week's contest.

Varsity Resting For Sentinel Go

A couple of well-earned injuries and a bit of bulking up by the Tartars pushed out much for the Redondo Tartars last Friday night as the home stopped an their third Bay League win in an 18-7 triumph.

Showing in each of the first three quarters, the Tartars had all the way to put the Redondo Tartars on the edge.

Without a doubt, the Tartars' bulking up when he put his head down and charged into the end zone for the Redondo was after the Tartars had managed 36 yards from the opening kickoff.

Torrance's seventh TD came in quarter No. 3 when Bill Crawford carried an aerial cut to End Cal Spowman. Spowman caught the pass, then lateraled off to Halliwell Clayton. Spowman picked up 14 yards on the play.

BACKS CRACKED

The Tartars were broken three plays later, however, when the Tartars passed and ran to their third score.

FOE ONCE

Everybody did just what they were supposed to do," according to Coach Cliff Graybeal.

Short Yarbrough Quits Trying To Be Nation's Top Bowling Ace

"If I do any more bowling," commented Marlon Short "Short" Yarbrough, for the past three years owner of the Torrance Bowl, "it's going to be strictly for the fun of it."

MARLON SHORT YARBROUGH Hangs Up His Shoes

Short has all out given up trying to be the nation's top bowler. In 1948 he climbed to 300 in from the 275th spot in the Chicago All-Star Tournament to devote his time to selling life insurance for the American National Life Insurance Company.

Well-known in bowling circles throughout the entire Southland, Short said his allegie settled this year to become an insurance underwriter in the Torrance, Long Beach and Wilmington areas. From Dec. 1947, at which time he purchased the Torrance Bowl, Yarbrough owned the Long Beach Auto Parts.

Many of Short's competitors probably will buy insurance from him just to keep him out of competition, since he carried a 196 score. He was All-Star Champion of the Long Beach and Southeast District in 1947 and 1948—an accomplishment which carried with it the right to bowl in the All-Star Chicago Tournament each year.

Tartar Jayvees Lose Canceled Tilt to Lynwood

While the Tartar varsity was busy pulling feathers out of the tail of old Mr. Seabank in Redondo last Friday evening, the Tartar Jayvees were credited with a loss at the hands of Lynwood by a 1 to 0 (forfeit) score, according to Scholastic Sports Association officials.

The loss came as a surprise to most Tartars who heard of it, for most of them had no idea that a game was ever scheduled.

Coach Cliff Graybeal said the game was scheduled late last year by Eddie Cole, now with the Air Force, but was canceled by Torrance long before the season opened this year. Nevertheless, he forfeited. Oh, well.

Warriors Lose Scent of Roses in 32-0 Blasting by Long Beach

El Camino's rating as the top defensive team among the nation's junior college grids took a terrific nose-dive last Saturday evening at the Veterans Memorial Stadium in Long Beach as the Long Beach City College Vikings poured 32 points through the Warriors to stamp them down in a 32-0 defeat.

Saturday's game, which was played before 11,154 fans in the recently completed stadium, was the first defeat for the Warriors this year.
