MRS. DANIEL E. MOON
Wed. in Formal Church Ceremony

Daniel E. Moon Claims Lovely Bride at Altar

Lovely among early spring weddings was the doubling ceremony Saturday afternoon in Trinity Episcopal Church, Redlands, which united Miss Jo Anne Wilshire of that city and Daniel E. Moon of Torrance.

The bridal gown of ivory slipper satin was fashioned en train with seed pearls at the neckline and on the sleeves. Her veil matched the yoke of her gown and was fastened by a headress of matching satin. On her prayerbook she carried a cattella orchid and a shower of phalaenopsis and hyacinths.

Little Sharon Foster, niece of the bridegroom, and Sandra Broaders, the bride's niece, attired in yellow satin, headed the bridal entourage as ribbon bearers.

The bride's attendants wore identically styled gowns of satin in shades of blue with matching hats. Miss Jane Spensler was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Wanda Hassebrook, who came from Wichita for the wedding; and the Misses Anne Larsen, Sharon Annen and Marilyn Hall. Their nosegays of yellow roses, feathered yellow carnations, and hyacinths were outlined with ice blue net.

Another niece of the bridegroom, little Nancy Foster, was flower girl in blue satin with a hat of blue feathered carnations. Ring bearer was Keith Broaders, nephew of the bride.

Attending the bridegroom were William Moon as best man, and another brother, Robert Moon, who ushered. Also asked to usher were Walt Mason, Bill Stanley, Doug Tillotson and Bill Kesson. All white snapdragons and calla lilies decorated the altar and pew bows with candytuft bouquets outlined the aisle. Pedestal baskets of lilies and snapdragons were placed with cathedral candles to complete the lovely setting.

A reception for 300 guests immediately followed at the Cop temporary Club. Mrs. Wilshire received in turquoise blue with accents of grey, and Mrs. Moon wore a rose gown with grey net, and gloves and a corsage of anthurium and peppermint feathered carnations. Guest registrar was Miss Marlene Watje.

Following their honeymoon the popular couple will receive their friends at 1048 Brookside avenue.
