

TEAC Told of Enemies Of Public Education

Fern Avenue Elementary School's new double duty cafeteria was the scene of the regular meeting of the Torrance Educational Advisory Committee which met Monday, June 11.

Judge John A. Shidder, president of the Board of Education, spoke briefly on some of the problems and enemies of public education.

"Whereas in the early 20s only one out of 10 students of high school age was in school, today we have nine out of 10 attending high school," he pointed out.

He indicated the problems of educating such a large percentage of the school-age population provided enemies of public education with ample cannon fodder—particularly large school taxpayers.

"I cannot see how we can hope for peace on a world scale until we broaden the scope of education," he said.

Also speaking was Jack O. Baldwin, managing editor of the Torrance Herald and one of the group of parents, teachers and administrators who developed the new report card to be used in the local school district next year.

He reported examples cited by teachers during the report card committee meetings which made grading of students by the "A" to "F" method difficult and inaccurate.

"Few students drive Model T's today as they did in our high school days. Today parents have advanced with the times and purchased or have allowed their children to drive V-8's," he pointed out. "Still many parents demand an 'A' to 'F' type of grading on the grounds that 'that's what I received in school, and if it was good enough then, it is good enough now.'"

None of the teachers present indicated he needed or wanted grades on students transferring into their classes from other school districts.

Mrs. Grace Wright reminded the group that there would be no meeting in August but that the annual teacher reception would be held on a Wednesday in September.

El Camino Recreation Program Set

The annual summer recreational program at El Camino College will begin Tuesday, June 26, according to the college registration office.

Participation in the program can be either for credit or just for pure recreation. Besides offering sports including volleyball, softball, tennis, archery, and croquet, a full program of dancing is being offered.

Square dancing classes will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Social dancing will be on Monday and Wednesday from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., and will include the waltz, fox-trot, samba, tango, rumba, and mambo.

Students who are above the age of 18 may obtain college credit by registering at the college on Monday, June 25 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The summer recreational program is a part of the college plan of making college educational facilities available on a year-around basis to members of the community.

Permits Close On Heels Of Last Year's Record

Although building activity slowed here a bit last month, the amount of permits issued during the first five months of this year is keeping up with the record-breaking pace set during 1950—the best in Torrance's history.

According to the records of Walter Bradford of the building inspection office in the city hall, the five months activity indicated construction has been started on buildings evaluated at a total of $5,223,293. This is only slightly under last year's January-to-May total of $5,680,009.

Included in last month's permits was one to the Federal Burner Corporation which plans to move its Los Angeles operation to a $120,000 plant to be located on a three-acre site at Jefferson and Oak streets near the Naval Supply Depot.

J. E. Barrett, manager and president of the firm, said he hoped to be in production by August. The company, employing approximately 50 persons, is engaged in the manufacturing of burners and other parts for appliances. The 16,000 square foot plant is to be equipped with smog control devices and other modern equipment.

Two other permits issued last month included one to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints for $96,000 for a new church to be located at 220th street and Cabrillo avenue, and one to the General Electric Company for a $16,000 jet engine test building to be located on Lomita boulevard opposite the National Electric Products Company.

Convention Reports are Featured

State PTA convention reports took the spotlight at the Gateway PTA Council meeting held at Wayside Chapel.

Each association president reported on a different phase of the convention, which was held in San Diego early in May, with Mrs. John Garner presenting the all-over picture of the conclave. Each delegate agreed that Dr. Alexander Stoddard's address during the convention was outstanding.

Using an oak tree, the PTA emblem, for the theme, Mrs. J. C. Miller, council historian, added a golden leaf for each achievement as she unfolded the historical events of the past year.

A musical program by Narbonne High School students was presented by Mrs. W. R. Schroeder. Jim Spivey played a cornet solo, "Napole," accompanied by Robert Jones. Eldridge Walker played "Liebestraum" by Liszt, as a piano solo, and two vocal numbers, "One Fine Day" and "I Have Sung My Songs," by Patti Swenson.

Crystal goblets and sherberts were given to Mrs. Nansel as a gift from council members in appreciation of her leadership during the past two years. Mrs. Nansel presented her board members with hand-decorated dollies.

Luncheon was served to council members, their guests, principals and vice principals of the six high schools which the council embraces by the Dorcas Circle of the Women's Society of the church.
