

Hi-Lites Of Seaside Heights

By GRAYCE RYCKMAN

This business of writing a column is really very educational. Course, some of that knowledge is debatable as to being education, but most of it is a true study of the people who are our neighbors.

For instance, I knew that Patti Heptig, age 12, of 5359 Bindewald, was confirmed last Sunday evening, the 3rd of February, at St. James Church in Redondo. Due to the large confirmation group this year, only their sponsors were able to attend the services, performed by Bishop Manning of Los Angeles. In trying to get a workable understanding of what would take place I learned a small but important part of the Catholic religious procedures.

I also heard that Peg Thorne of Zalkon Rd. was accepted into the Las Vecinas Woman's Club last Thursday, Jan. 31. But while talking to her I learned that this is primarily a philanthropic organization, and not just the gad-about type of women's club many would assume. Peg is to be active on the community projects detail. Right here I guess I'd better say that she also worked on the recent "nose-count" in Torrance and was just exhausted when I saw her—but really out.

Last Thursday was the annual March of Mothers on Polio, and it seems we have many here in our tract to say "thank you" to for this extra effort in so great a need. Marching Mothers of the Heights included Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Austin of Macaffee; Davis Horbet of Vanderhill; and Jean Elder, Jane Chomnie, Peg Thorne, Myrtis Nix, and Mae Ziskin of Zalkon.

Mae Ziskin's name here reminds me that her mother-in-law, Mrs. Tilly Ziskin, just returned to New York after a six weeks visit with her son, Ralph, Mae and grandson, Joel. Unfortunately, on her first visit to sunny California, we had our record-breaking rain storms.

Little Carol Frakes was nine years old the 20th of Jan. Her mother and father gave her and a group of her friends a very elegant dinner party in their home at 5267 Doris Way, to celebrate the occasion. Many happy returns, Carol.

Another baby shower was given this past Saturday on Bindewald. This one was for Amy Leising and was given by Ruth Waddingham at 5303. A special decorated ice cream cake was served with coffee and much time was spent in looking at and ah-ing over gifts. It was a large shower with these present: Mary Russell, Ina Mae Eikner, Esther Steele, Maryon Martin, Dorothy Marchel, Vi Fitzpatrick, Thelma Delameter, Mary Sokolowski, Dorothy Dwyer, Esther Johnson, Altha Milson and me. Remembrances were also sent by Mmes. Wagstaff, Lumsden, and Wilkerson.

Oh, remember the twin puppies I told you about week before last, Tega and Tiga? Well, I'm sorry to report that Tega was hit and killed by a car just the following week. Poor Tiga, I'll bet she is lonesome.

I understand that Boy Scout Troop 726 had a very enjoyable weekend. They held overnight camp at El Retiro Park. I'll have more on that next week.

The only date reminder I have for now is Feb. 24. The Cubs of Seaside (726) and of Riviera (718C) are joining for a big Blue and Gold dinner on that day. The tickets are 30 cents and 60 cents, and the big doings will be in Torrance Civic Auditorium, same as last year.

BOY SCOUT WEEK—FEB. 6th to 9th.

Ceramic Class Now Open

Registration for free adult ceramic classes closes tonight. School officials said yesterday a class starting at 6:45 will be held at the high school tonight and those interested must attend to register.

Subjects include making lamp bases, dishes, wall ornaments, and dishes, ash trays, etc. Other classes, general registration of which has now closed, are at Seaside, and North Torrance elementary schools.

University Professor On New 'Signal Row'

Another new traffic light will go up in Torrance, City Manager George Stevens reported today. The new installation will be at Crenshaw and Torrance Blvds.

Last week Stevens said that contracts for lights at Five points and 190th and Crenshaw were under consideration. They will be in service by the end of February.
