Business Men Match Hits With Merchants

Hometown rivalry will be sparking plenty tomorrow evening when the Waleria Merchants clash with the Waleria Businessmen on the Waleria diamond beginning at 8:30 o'clock. Both outfits are rated near equals in this first get-together. Hi-Shear and Strescon softball squads will meet in the first game under the Waleria luminaries with the ump calling for play promptly at 7 o'clock. Strescon should have little difficulty in squeezing past their foes as they boast an unmarred record of four wins. Also on tab Monday at sunset is a pair of A League tussles on the Torrance Park, getting under way at 7 o'clock. National Electric, toppers on their league list, will take on National Supply who Thursday was forced to lose one via the forfeit rule. Another piperoo will see the 3-Ms and Lovelady mix for the nightcap at 8:30. Manager Jack Malseed got his first hit of the year and he made up for lost time by batting in a couple of runs in the third frame.

Torrance moved up into fourth place by virtue of the win, and currently is tied with the San Pedro group. Whittier holds an unbeaten 7-0 mark in the stand-son when he turned down three straight batters in the fourth, fifth and sixth stanzas. Guy gave up five innings in the first three frames, but started to creak in the fourth. Amrocco knocked out their only runs of the game in the two initial rounds, but failed to make the grade after this. Three double plays marked the defensive play by the losers, the first knocking off the winners in the hectic third after seven runs had been scored. Harvey won over National Supply after National failed to have nine men on the field by the 7:15 starting deadline. A five-inning unofficial six followed, during which Harvey felled six runs to National's four. Longren Aeros ran roughshod over the Columbia steelmen 18-9, with a gigantic sixth-inning spelling the difference for the victors. Most of the points were made on bunt plays by the Steelmen, but it's points, and who cares how they're made, is that wins a game.
