OWEN PATRICK EUGENE DENNIS McNULTY SOUNDS LIKE AT LEAST THREE PEOPLE. ACTUALLY, IT'S JUST . . .

DENNIS DAY

Singer to Sail for England Next Week

which ran on NBC radio for five years until recently when Dennis started his NBC television show. The new musical situation comedy allows Dennis all the freedom possible, not only for his singing, but also for his impersonations and his recently appreciated acting talent. (In the picture above he portrays, in order, Barry Fitzgerald, The Mad Russian and Ronald Coleman.)

Dennis' mother avers her singing son always had the knack for mimicry. At times when she was in the audience, she would find him opening the door, it was only Dennis having his joke.

Dennis was born in New York City May 21, 1917. He is married to the former Peggy Almqvist and is the father of three boys, Patrick James, Eugene, 2, and Michael, 1.

Despite the empty-headed, glibly youth he portrays on the air, Dennis is a smart businessman who takes his work seriously. He holds to a rigid schedule of voice exercises, and works hard at perfecting his performance. When fans write to him as if he really were the simple character he portrays, Dennis is flattered. An actor, he feels, is accomplished when he can make the public believe in his characterization.

Patrick Eugene Dennis McNulty would be a lawyer today.

After Dennis was graduated from New York's Cathedral High School and finished a pre-law course at Manhattan College, he delayed entering Eugene's law school to recuperate from an operation on his tonsils. He then attended the University of California at Berkeley, where he received a B.A. in English with a minor in French. Tonight, in his final show of the season, Dennis Day offers his dramatic forecast of the adventures that may befall him on his forthcoming trip to the Old World.
