LIBERACE is personality at the keyboard. A showman to his deft fingertips, he has proved his ability to hold an audience, whether in a sophisticated supper club, in the spotlight of the concert stage or on the television screen. His series promises plenty of sparkle for the summer TV scene.

LIBERACE: MASTER OF PIANO POTPOURRI Summer Network Show Adds to Fame

Ignace Paderewski heard Liberace play when the latter was only seven years old, and pronounced a brilliant future for him. Events were not long in proving the Polish virtuoso a professional debut at 16 and went on to earn an unlimited scholarship at the Wisconsin College of Music.

Liberace, acclaimed by classical and popular music devotees alike, has become a familiar figure to Southern Californians through his musical versatility and many appearances at 7:30 over KLMC, Channel 13.
