

Judge Sentences Man Guilty of Attack on Woman

Raymundo Ramirez, who was found guilty of assault with intent to injure by a jury in Superior court today, was sentenced to the state prison Friday by Judge Edward L. Jefferson.

The 34-year-old man attacked Mrs. Pauline Wright, 44, of 2310 Torrance Blvd. mother of a Torrance police officer, as she walked home from a movie at the Regency theater at 152nd St. and Vermont Ave. March 9.

She was saved by firemen from a nearby station who heard her screams and came to the rescue. Police combed the area surrounding the scene for several hours before locating Ramirez at a nearby residence.

The jury found him not guilty of a rape charge. The crime of assault with intent to commit rape usually carries a sentence of one to two years in the state prison.

New 'Periscope Eye' Affords Wider Convention Coverage

ABC Television Network engineers have unveiled a new "periscope eye" which is being used on a television camera for the first time. The device gives cameras an "all-seeing eye" over the heads of camera lens to focus on the image of the subject.

The periscope is a hollow metal tube that is inserted into the objective lens of a camera lens. The three-foot extension, which can be moved in front of a wide-angle camera lens, is provided at each end with mirrors to reflect the image of the subject from a height of nearly 100 feet.

An additional judgeship for the South Bay Judicial District was proposed Tuesday in hearings of the State Interim Judiciary Committee meeting in Los Angeles.

Testimony given before the committee cited the tremendous growth of the area which has created the need for one and a half judges to handle the heavy case load.

When the court reorganization plan goes into effect for the first time next Jan. 2, there will be two judges assigned to the district.
