'Forget-Me-Not' Days to be Held Nov. 6, 7, 8, 10

Blue flowers of remembrance will be sold on the streets of Torrance on "Forget-Me-Not" Days, Nov. 6, 7, 8, and 10. Commander R. E. Carrier of the South Bay Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans announced yesterday.

Carrier, in urging everyone in the city to wear a flower, said "many persons mistakenly believe the disabled veteran is well cared for and then forget him, but it should be remembered that all wars, Korea included, add to the number of disabled veterans."

All funds from the sale of the flowers will be used to aid this area's disabled vets or their dependents.

Eighth Grade Class Shows Generosity

Eighth graders at Greenwood Elementary School are students with a heart.

The class recently won the Parent Teacher Association prize for obtaining the greatest number of new members and "shared" their good fortune with the boys' of the Spanish American Institute by presenting the group with a check for $5.

Presentation came about following a class field trip to the Institute.

Gesture reflects good student thinking and teacher leadership. Principal Raymond Ellerman pointed out.

Mrs. Lawson Teaching In Okinawa School

Mr. and Mrs. Glendon A. Lawson of 1600 Catalina, Redondo Beach, both former educators in this area, are now teaching in the Okinawa American Dependents School, according to an announcement from the office of the Secretary of the Army.

Mrs. Lawson is currently on leave from Torrance Unified School District, where she was a kindergarten teacher. She characterizes Okinawa as "one of the most beautiful islands in the South Pacific . . . and a paradise for camera enthusiasts and artists."

She and her husband are instructors in the Awase and Kubi Sake schools, which teach grades one through high school. Some 800 pupils are enrolled and are taught by 30 teachers.

Boy Falls From Tree; Suffers Back Injuries

Playing in a high eucalyptus tree ended up in near-tragedy for eight-year-old Richard R. Jones as he tumbled from a limb some 20 feet above the ground, suffering possible back injuries and a bloody nose, Monday afternoon.

Deputy R. A. Anderson said that playmates reported the lad, who lives at 24232 Ravenna St., had climbed a tree at 223rd St. and Berendo Ave. and evidently missed his footing.

Richard was summoned to the scene by neighbors.

Richard was taken to Harbor General Hospital by Jacob's Ambulance.
