from the office of
CONGRESSMAN CECIL R. KING

NAVY "PROJECT 75"

While hard at work endeavoring to get Federal action on the Redondo Beach breakwater extension, Congressman King uncovered a move of the Navy Department concerning the 17th District, but listed only as "Project 75." It was found that this project was to be located on Catalina Island, take over the popular Isthmus area, and restrict the use of off-shore waters.

Congressman King called an immediate conference with Navy officials to request an explanation of the necessity of taking this choice part of the 17th District. Following this meeting, the Congressman called upon Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson requesting that a formal hearing be held in the Los Angeles area, so that local interests "could hear and be heard in open forum in a manner consistent with democratic principles."

As a result of the prompt action by Congressman King, backed by resounding support from Southern California residents, the Navy announced it had abandoned its plan to locate an ordnance test station on Catalina Island and would transfer the proposed project to another site.

LUNCH WITH IKE

Congressman King was a guest of President Eisenhower at luncheon last week in the White House. Although King and Ike are old friends, it has been many months since they last met, and the first since Ike came into political prominence. Protocol was all but forgotten at the luncheon of consommé, lamb chops, peas, cauliflower, mint jelly, shredded lettuce salad with Roquefort dressing, grape sherbet with petit fours and coffee. Following the luncheon the President took Congressman King and other guests on a personally-conducted tour of the newly-refurbished White House, displayed his huge collection of trophies gathered in his extensive travels, and included a trip through the President's bomb shelter.

The most important measure recently before the House was the bill on Steadford for Hawaii, which was passed by a vote of 274 to 138. This marks the third time the House has approved making Hawaii the 49th state. The two previous bills passed during other sessions of Congress, die in the Senate. Should Hawaii be voted statehood this time, the Hawaiian Islands would send two Senators and one Representative to Congress. It is interesting to note that Hawaii, with a population of 499,794, will have three members representing it in Washington, while our own 17th District, with an equal population, has but one representative. This may be the answer when some folks complain that they don't see their Congressman more often.

An estimated nine million working mothers in the U. S. today will be granted special tax relief if H. R. 3079, a bill introduced by Congressman King, is made law. Congressman King's bill would amend the Internal Revenue Code to permit the taxpayer to deduct, as a business expense, the cost of providing care for children under fourteen years of age, if such care is for the purpose of enabling the taxpayer to be gainfully employed.

In presenting the bill, Congressman King pointed out that it has long been the law for business to take a deduction on its income tax for every ordinary and necessary expense arising in the production of its income, and that he felt that the same principle should apply to the individual wage earner as well as business.

RELIEF FOR AMERICAN SHIPOWNERS

A bill which would grant refunds of duty paid on equipment and materials purchased for American vessels in foreign ports was also recently introduced by Congressman King. Present laws hold that materials purchased in foreign ports for the stowage and protection of cargo are "equipments" and subject to a duty of 50 per cent of their cost.

Congressman King stated in presenting H. R. 3080, that he did not believe that Congress intended to penalize the American shipowner by imposing a duty on materials used only in the operation of his vessel, and that his measure would authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to remit or refund duties on materials purchased in foreign ports and which are used for the stowage and protection of cargo.

"Coming from a maritime district of California, I am well aware of the highly competitive conditions which exist in the international shipping trades and of the struggle which our merchant marine is making to maintain its position while paying American wages and maintaining American standards of living," King told his fellow Congressmen. "While it may be said that the items covered by my bill are individually small, collectively they amount to a sizable sum, and certainly Amer-

Got Your 1953 Tabs on Yet? You'd Better!

A. H. Henderson, Director of Motor Vehicles, this week notified traffic law enforcement agencies throughout the state that processing of vehicle registration renewals is close to completion.

"In view of these circumstances," Henderson's announcement stated, "effective March 15, 1953, traffic squads of enforcement agencies are free to put on a campaign of questioning owners of vehicles that are being operated without visible evidence of 1953 registration."

The only exceptions mentioned in Henderson's statement are some applications taken in by Department of Motor Vehicles branch offices during the last day or two of the registration renewal period early in February. In these cases, he explained, applicants will have in their possession either 1953 license plate tabs issued over the counter pending mailing certificates, or receipts for 1953 registration fees. Cases of this type are being cleared up rapidly, the director said.

Henderson suggested that California motorists make sure that their 1953 tabs are attached to their license plates, and their registration certificates are displayed in their vehicles as required by State law.

ty law provides that no benefits may be paid in any month in which the beneficiary earns $75 or more in a job which is covered by Social Security. For the self-employed, the ceiling is $800 a year—equivalent to $75 a month. A number of bills have been introduced in Congress which would change earnings ceilings, including H. R. 2111 by Congressman King which would repeal the work limitation altogether.

month in which to file for benefits ranging from an average of $17 in the European theater prisoners to an average of $1700 for Pacific area prisoners. The deadline is April 9. Applications are available at veterans organizations or the Veterans Administration offices . . . Veterans holding both term and permanent NSLI policies will be paid to restore twice-a-day home delivery of mail . . . Statistics show an employment increase in the aircraft industry of the 17th District of 22 per cent over a year ago.
