Bill to Outlaw Red Party Gets Public Support

Public Support

Congressman Ceoil R. King's bill to outlaw the Communist Party in the United States is developing favorable Congressional sentiment as a steady flow of public support for the measure continues to be received from individuals, veteran groups, legislative bodies, labor and fraternal organizations, according to a release from the Congressman's office. Favorable committee action on the anti-Red legislation which the King introduced eight months ago is expected soon in the House of Representatives.

The King bill, which would brand Communists as traitors and criminals, also embodies President Eisenhower's recent request of Congress that "United States citizens who are members of the Communist Party should be deprived of citizenship."

Latest support on behalf of his measure was received by Congressman King from California Department Commander Gordon H. Winton Jr., of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a unanimously passed resolution backing the bill from the Fourth District Council of the VFW in recent executive session at Gardena.

Other recent endorsements of King's action to outlaw Communism in the U. S. have come from the American Legion, State of California executive committee meeting at Merce ed, as well as sumerous individual.

munism in the U. S. have come from the American Legion, State of California executive committee meeting at Mere of d. as well as numerous individual American Legion posts throughout the country. The first American Legion endorsement was by the South Bay Post 184 of Redonds Beach. The City Council of Los Angeles was the first of several municipal legislative bodies to vote resolutions urging the passage of King's anti-Communist legislation.

The international Association of Machinists, long an advocate of outlawing Communism in the United States, was the first major labor group to endorse the King bill and editorially call for its passage in. The Machinist, official publication of the organization which boasts a circulation in excess of three million.
