worked.

The girls always looked forward to the weekends when Pop would be home with them all day and they also looked forward to going out to diner at Danlels, Maggle was their favorite waitress and always took extra care to see that everything was just right for them. Months rolled by and at Christmas time Maggle asked, "What do you girls want for Christmas?" An ewe mommy," piped Valarle. That night on the way home, Maggle told her girl-friend, "You know, I can never have children. I think it would be nice if Santa did fulfill their wish."

The next week while Mag-

The next week while Maggle was standing at attention watching over her guests, Valarie winked akek. "Daddy." Valarie sald. "Why don't you whik at her?" 'It isn't nice to wink at a married woman, he replied. "But Daddy. I know she isn't married, you just sale her." He did, and she wasn't. The next Christmas the girls sure enough had a new mommy. Now Earl Truscutt and Valarie. Joyce, Mary Laura and Nadine, and their years and Sadine, and their years happily right here in Torrance, at 16418 Hasa Avenue. Attempting to make it two Metropolitan League wins in one week and their ninth of the season, El Camino's hardwooders travel to Bakersfield tonight to do battle with the Rene gades. Tipoft time is slated for 8 o'eleck.

The hit tune of El Camino to Swish," brought joy once again to the forces of Warriorville as the "college's giratests one - two scoring punch in history" led in the uprooting of Los Angeles Valley, 77-59, Tuesday afternoon in the uprooting of Los Angeles Valley, 77-59, Tuesday afternoon in the Uzroting of Los Angeles Valley, 77-59, Tuesday afternoon hif for 25 and 23 points respectively.

Play Only Three Quarters The two scoring aces would have added more to their total had Coach Tom Bailey not decided to give Warrior reserves a chance to dust off their playing togs.

In typical Camino fashion, the Warriors came from behind to twin, chalking up their eighth league victory against one loss. They stayed ted for first place with Long Beach City College, who set a scoring record against LACC, on Tuesday, 108-70.

Valley jumped to a one-point advantage in the first quarter, 14-13, but that was the biggest jump they made all afternoon. Baron hit for nine digits in the second period as the EClans pulled away with a 38-25 midway lead.
