

Annual Camp Fire Mint Sale to Begin Saturday

Sweet things come in small packages. Such a statement might refer alike to the Camp Fire Girls and the chocolate-covered mints inside the packages they will be seen carrying next week throughout the Harbor area, according to Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, press chairman.

Sally Collins Has Diamond

Now wearing a platinum carat diamond to seal her betrothal to Edwin E. Edmonds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Edmonds, 17214 Della Ave., is Miss Sally Ann Collins, 814 Sartori Ave.

MISS SALLY ANN COLLINS ... Wears Diamond

The couple, who plan an early summer wedding, celebrated their engagement by spending last week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Holland of Modesto, Calif.

The bride-elect graduated from Torrance High School, where she

Next Saturday, Mar. 27, the annual Candy Sale will begin in the Los Angeles area and the mints may be purchased any time from that date 'til the end of the sale on Apr. 17.

Each girl chooses her own goal in this campaign, since each individual group decides how its part of the proceeds shall be used.

A portion of the money raised from the sale also goes to extend work of the Los Angeles Council of Camp Fire Girls, a Community Chest agency, Camp Yallani, the resident camp maintained by the organization in the San Bernardino mountains, also will benefit.

"Be on the look-out for these girls, whether in their bright red Blue Bird vests; their red, white, and blue Camp Fire uniforms, or their colorful Horizon Club sweaters," Mrs. Smith said. "They are all part of the big Camp Fire family, and the mints they sell are produced exclusively for the Camp Fire Girls—they cannot be purchased elsewhere."

was affiliated with GAA and FFLA. She now works as general clerk at the Douglas Aircraft Co. here.

Edmonds, '46 graduate of the Metropolitan Trade School in Los Angeles, is now attending El Camino College, where he will receive his degree in police administration this summer. He served eight years in the Navy during World War II on the heavy cruiser San Francisco and during the Korean campaign on the destroyer USS Bradford.

BRING OUT THE 'GYPSY' ... in you for spring with this bouffant interpretation of the mobile coiffure trend.

Romance, Abandon Keynote Coiffure Styles for Spring

Great spring with romance and abandon, suggests the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association in announcing its Spring Hair Fashion Forecast.

In tune with the mood of the season, the hair fashion authority turns its head, and ours, towards spring with two new coiffures, "The Spring" and the "Gypsy," sparkling and daring variations of the mobile coiffure trend.

"The Spring" is a scintillating combination of waves and fern-like curls on a foundation of soft-flowing waves. A smooth, soft coiffure, it is ideal for the sophisticated personality, with the accent on romance.

Gay with abandon, bold with intrigue, the "Gypsy" brings out the gypsy in you for spring. It is a bouffant interpretation of the mobile coiffure trend that combines with flirtatious wisps.

It employs the deliberate sorcery of the tiger-tooth bang, coupled with an innocent wisp of a chiffon-like top-knot. Daring use of come-hither curls of sable hue demand attention and conspiracy on blond coiffures. On raven tresses, ermine-hued tips serve as highlights.

Both versions must be adapted to one's personality. So, if you have the gypsy in you, wear a new "Gypsy" coiffure. If you like the sophisticated trend, "The Spring" will lend itself to your mood.

Smother, softer, more romantic are the keynotes of the new hair styles, both of which have been designed for adaptability to the fashion silhouette and new spring millinery.

The foundation of both coiffures is a mobile cut, four inches all around the head, shaping to no longer than to one and half inches at the nape line. The

Four Halldale School Tots Appear on TV

For the third consecutive year, four children from Halldale Ave. School appeared as guests on the radio and TV show, "House Party," yesterday afternoon.

Jimmy Kenyon, Tommy Schwass and Pamela Poe, first graders; Audrey Weil from the kindergarten; John Ryland, vice-principal at Halldale, and several parents left the school at 9:30 a.m. to spend an exciting day at TV City.

They toured the building, met and chatted with Art Linkletter and some of the staff of the show, and became acquainted with stage and program procedure before appearing before the cameras and microphones at 11:30 a.m.

After the show, they were guests of the John Guedel Productions at lunch at the TV City restaurant.

Memories of the day were kept to enjoy many times over in recordings of the program which were given to each participant, along with gifts, both for them and for the school. Previous groups have earned for their school awards of a radio, slide projector, and a large daylight projection screen.

Two new members were added to Torrance Chapter No. 380, Order of the Ex/tern Star, when the group met at the Masonic Temple on Sartori Ave.

The meeting was called to order by Worthy Patron Vincent Viellenave, and Worthy Matron Florence Viellenave presided. A large group of past matrons and past patrons of the Chapter were introduced.

Also on the future slate for the Torrance group is a mother-daughter banquet slated for Tuesday evening, Mar. 30, at the Guild Hall of Central Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Last Saturday the girls enjoyed a roller skating party here, adjourning afterward to the Masonic Temple for refreshments.

Fashion Show Decor to Carry Out Easter, Spring Themes

Easter and early spring motifs will be combined in table decorations when the Torrance Woman's Club holds its annual fashion show at the Civic Auditorium at 8 o'clock, according to Mrs. Dean L. Sears, decorations chairman.

Each of the tables, marked with 10 place settings, will use a different central idea built around one of the two themes, she said. Easter baskets with bunnies, hand-painted eggs, calla lilies, camellias, and many other kinds of flowers will be used.

Guests will view the fashion parade from tableside, then enjoy refreshments prepared by Mrs. Nicholas Gregory and her committee after the show.

Hi-liters Plan Play Project For Children

Plans to secure land for a carnival grounds where children may play under maternal supervision one day each month will spark the agenda when the Seaside Hi-liters meet next Tuesday night, Mar. 30, at Seaside Elementary School.

Discussion of the service project was opened by Mesdames Lee Shanks, Edward Swanson, and Walter Ansley when the club met last week at the school. Other business highlights included the naming of Mrs. Arthur R. Kessler to succeed Mrs. Frank Burk as historian.

Members were entertained with a comedy sketch by six members of the dramatic workshop of the Hampton Players. Participating were Dorothy Tunis, Ada Lavender, Peggy Stroble, Ethel Dugan, Dody Mulqueen, and Eve Adamson.

Refreshments were served at the meeting at the 6009 Mac coffee Rd. home of Mrs. Ansley with Mesdames Carl Beard and Jane Cardenas assisting.
