Local Youth In Fisher Model Car Design Contest

One of many youngsters entered in the 1953 Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild competition for model automobiles is Joseph M. Rubco Jr., of 2508 Sierra St.

Teams of experts in Detroit, Mich., are minutely inspecting the model cars, state by state, to determine winners of the many prizes being offered.

Cash awards and university scholarships aggregating $65,000 are at stake in this Guild competition, marking the 22nd year since the inception of the Guild in 1930 as an organization devoted to the development of craftsmanship and creative ability among boys.

The judges, as in the past, are members of the General Motors Styling Section, industrial art instructors from Detroit public schools, and representatives from the Guild's technical department.

Points on which the miniature automobiles are scored are divided among scale fidelity, workmanship, painting, originality of design, artistic merit of design and practicability.

Judging will continue until all models have gone over the judging dias and the state and regional winners will be announced either late this month or early August. The 40 regional winners will go to Detroit, expense-free, from Aug. 18-21 for the annual Guild convention and a testimonial banquet where the national scholarship winners are announced.

Eight scholarships, two each in the amounts of $4,000, $3,000, $2,000 and $1,000 are the top awards to be given to the four best model car builders in the Junior (12 through 15 years old) and Senior (16 through 19 years old) age divisions.

State awards in each age division are $150 for first, $100 for second, $50 for third, and model builder's tool chests for four honorable mentions. The first-place winners in each state will compete against the winner from the other state or states in their region for the regional awards, which are the convention trips.

Sons of General Motors employees are eligible to enter the competition. In the event any of them are among the winners, however, they are given duplicate awards so that all original awards offered will go to non-GM boys.

President of the Craftsman's Guild is James E. Gordon, vice-president of General Motors, while the honorary president is Dr. George J. Fisher, National Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America.

Noted educators and scientists comprise the Guild's Honorary Board of Judges and Advisory Board, the former including Karl T. Compton, chairman of the Corporation, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Robert A. Millikan, Nobel prize winner and formerly president of the California Institute of Technology, C. F. Kettering, a director of General Motors, and Harley J. Earl, vice-president and director of Styling for GM.
