

CUT-UPS . . . Dick Bonham of Hollywood Riviera prepares to cut a few mean cadenzas on the bass fiddle as Tony D'Addario reaches for a high C. Prompting from the book is Nora Ullrich, of Torrance. The trio was caught during a rehearsal of the South Bay Civic Light Opera Association's next production, "Knickerbocker Holiday," which will be staged July 9, 10, 11, 16 and 17 in the Redondo High School auditorium. Tickets can be ordered by calling FR 4-3766.

GOVERNMENT SATIRIZED IN SOUTH BAY MUSICAL

"A government is a group of men organized to sell protection to the inhabitants of a limited area—at monopolistic prices. This is the definition of government given by devilish Pieter Stuyvesant, peg-leg Governor of Old New York, in the musical satire "Knickerbocker Holiday," to be staged in Redondo soon by talented residents of Torrance and other South Bay cities.

Insisting that the government can do no wrong, Stuyvesant puts teeth in his definition by selling muskets and fire-water to the Indians so that the early Dutch settlers will be in more danger and thus will be forced to pay higher prices to the government to protect themselves.

Results Lively
The results of these shenanigans make "Knickerbocker Holiday" one of the liveliest musicals yet produced by the South Bay Civic Light Opera Association, which will stage the show starting July 9 in the Redondo Union High School auditorium.

Lending his acting talents to the juicy Stuyvesant role is Dick Williams of Manhattan Beach, who has run the Show Business gamut from Melodrama to Television, according to Jim Brittain, drama director for the Kurt Weill-Maxwell Anderson musical.

Tender, Too
Stuyvesant's tyrannical attitude toward the population shows only one facet of his complex character, however. He can be tender, too, as Williams will show with his rendition of the love song "September Song," made famous by the late Walter Houston, who played Stuyvesant in the Broadway original.

The object of his affection is beautiful young Tina, played by Patsy Bangs of Manhattan Beach, a featured dancer in past South Bay productions.

Residents from Torrance in the production include Dick Bonham, of Hollywood Riviera, as the town jailer; Rita Green, Seaside Ranchos, featured dancer and member of the chorus; Jo Ray, Perry School teacher, Johanna; and Nora Ullrich, prompter.

Bosses Found Guilty on UI Tax Charges

A total of 24 employers were found guilty in courts throughout the state during May as the California Department of Employment continued its aggressive drive against employers who violate the tax provisions of the unemployment insurance law.

"The convictions obtained last month brought to 108 the total since January 1," William A. Burkett, director of the Department of Employment, said. "In addition, 49 other employers are still awaiting trial on charges of failing to file wage reports or failing to pay taxes."

Burkett said only one was acquitted during May, indicating that the department files complaints only on flagrant violations.

"Our attitude on employer prosecutions is the same as on worker prosecutions," he said. "We ask for criminal complaints only in aggravated cases where the evidence is strong that the employer or worker deliberately violated the law."

The director said that penalties imposed on the convicted employers included fines totaling $1,050, suspended jail sentences amounting to 560 days, and probation totaling 10 years and four months.

Selling more tickets to the recent Circus than any other Boy Scout in the Harbor District won Danny Kirks, 11-year-old son of Torrance Elementary School's principal D. Boone Kirks, a sleeping bag for summer camping.

The local lad, a member of Boy Scout Troop 241, also won second highest salesman honors in Los Angeles County, topped only by a 17-year-old boy.

He received the prize at a Harbor District meeting in Lomita Park this week, with Ed Morang, Scout committeeman, making the presentation. Also attending was Phillip T. O'Neill, Scoutmaster of Troop 241.
