

2 Walterians Get Works Published

Two Walteria writers shared the spotlight at the October meeting of Southwest Manuscripters, South Bay organization for professional writers meeting monthly at Clark Stadium, Hermosa.

Currently appearing in True Romance is the story "Rat Pack Gang" by Edward Beatty. A short story by Elsie Pestoff appears in October Catholic Home Messenger. An article by Mrs. Pestoff was published in the same magazine last December.

The advanced short story class by Bert Mitchell Anderson originally scheduled for the South Bay will meet at 7:30 October 28 and successfully Thursday nights in combined session with writers from other city areas. The meeting place will be Writers Market League headquarters, 3028 W. 7th St., Los Angeles.

Unpublished manuscripts for the Christmas contest are due at the November meeting of Southwest Manuscripters. Cash awards for winners will be presented at the Christmas meeting.

Selling writers and interested beginners are invited to attend the monthly meetings. Information regarding membership or courses may be obtained from Catherine Bolton, secretary, at FRontier 2-2204.

Teacher Exam Slated Nov. 5

Examinations which will fulfill Constitution requirements for teaching credentials will be offered Nov. 5 on the campus of El Camino College, Dr. William H. Harless, director of instruction, announced today.

The political science examination will be given at 4 p.m. in Room 1 of the Social Science building, which faces Crenshaw Blvd.

"The material has been taken primarily from the Constitution of the United States. However, there are some facts of a rather fundamental nature which all teachers should know and which are not necessarily to be found in the Constitution," Dr. Harless said.

"A limited number of questions involving information of this type. Any good standard text may be used for reference work in the above. A good reference is the book, "The Faith of Our Fathers" by A. J. Cloud, which may be obtained at most public libraries," Dr. Harless suggested.

Pumping Cut Due Next Year

West Basin pumping curtailment is expected early next year under terms of water agreement recently signed by more than the necessary 70 per cent of members.

According to Carl Fossette, secretary, the reduction in pumping will increase the amount of Colorado River water used by 30 to 40 thousand acre feet each year. Although Torrance is adequately equipped for the change-over, some cities and areas including Redondo Beach and Dominguez are now installing equipment which will allow the increased flow.

CARE Package Price Reduced This Year

CARE packages have been reduced in price this year. Edward J. Flynn, western regional director of the package-sending agency, has announced.

Thanksgiving orders will be accepted until Nov. 1, and Christmas orders until Dec. 1. Turkeys may be sent for $11. Further information can be obtained at CARE, 855 S. Broadway, Los Angeles.
