Tartar Teen Talk

By JUDY POWELL
FR 5-1360

Last Tuesday was George Washington's birthday and a school holiday. Many of the Tartars spent the day taking a one-day trip to the snow, while others just took advantage of having an extra day home. The members of the old Student Council spent Tuesday evening seeing "The Drunkard," which they enjoyed very much. Each semester, it is kind of a tradition that the Council have one outing and this past semester's Council made a wise choice.

Linda Halburg and Alex Merola were the Torrance representatives in the seventh annual YWCA Model Legislature. This is when the youth of California takes over each past in the California State Legislature and perform the duties of their appointed positions. Linda was a Senator and Alex was Assemblyman and both filled their offices well. They left by train Wednesday morning for Sacramento, where the convention was to be held and stayed at the Sacramento Hotel. Friday night they attended both the Governor's Banquet and the Governor's Ball, and returned home Saturday morning. They both report that they learned a lot and had a splendid time.

"We Were Young That Year," 1955 Senior Play, was presented to the public last Friday and Saturday nights. Everyone attending agreed that it was one of the best Senior plays ever given here at Torrance High. Very special congratulations should be given to Jan Desmond, Steve Peters and to the production and technical staffs, to Mr. Hershby, and to the entire cast. The performance was one that will not be easily forgotten.

Tomorrow is "World Day of Prayer." All high school students are invited to attend a half-hour service starting at 12 at the Methodist Church. Everyone is urged to attend. Those who attend school in the afternoon should make arrangements to come a half-hour early and the morning students to stay a half-hour later.

A week from last Saturday Connie Kulp gave a Valentine party. Punch, cookies and sandwiches were served to the guests who included Sally Reed, Butch Kulp, Janice Cook, Jerry Hughes, Tommy Holmes, Sue Minnis, Dick Dawson, Beverly Stepp, Tommy Cook Janet Sanders, Dave Ladd, Claudia Smith, Linda Hines, David Conroy, Dixie Shaver, Sherwood Tiernan, Gary Knox, Bonnie Fletcher, Paul Shinoda, and Sue Wilsie.

After the Saturday night performance of the Senior Play, a party was given by Pat Rogan for all the members of the cast and their immediate friends. Plenty of food was served and some real relaxing games were played by a very tired group.

Even after Pat's party another party was given. A slumber party at the home of Joan Stuart. Helping Joan spend a very sleepless night were Joan Blackman, Dianne Larsen, Marilyn Poeske, Jean Northey and Carolyn Poeske.

Today the Scholarship Society will meet to nominate new officers for the coming term. The new members are to check the list, posted in the main hall to make sure that they are eligible for membership. The requirements are still three A's and a B, the present cabinet has checked the grades of all the students. If you have not yet checked the list, be sure and do so, for until you have attended a meeting and received your official membership card you are not officially a member.

We are very sorry to hear that Gloria Palm has hurt her back rather seriously. Gloria is now in the Torrance Memorial Hospital and it is certain that she would greatly appreciate a card or a letter from some of the Tartars.

Veterans Service Center Leaders To Meet Friday

Chris Ako, Board Chairman of the Harbor Area's Veterans Service Centers, announced this week that the 10th annual meeting of this Chest-sponsored agency will be held February 25th, at the Nikabob. Main purpose of the luncheon will be to discuss problems pertaining to the six Veterans Service Centers located throughout the Los Angeles Area. There will also be an election of new officers to govern the affairs of the agency during the forthcoming year. Aside from the points of business on the day's agenda, people attending will hear an address by General Graves B. Erskine, Marine Corps hero, and now assistant secretary of the Defense and Director of Special Operations. The General will make a special plane trip from Washington to address this group of community spirited people. As a Community Chest agency the Veterans Service Centers receive its support through yearly contributions made to the Chest. The luncheon meeting will be private, but provisions have been made to accommodate a limited number of community leaders interested in this type of service. Those interested may receive additional information by contacting the Directors of the VSC in Torrance or San Pedro.

Legion Women Support Program of Training
Women of the American Legion Auxiliary throughout the nation are giving active support to the American Legion's recommendations for a national security training program for the young men of America. Mrs. Persia Fess, press chairman of the Bert Crossland Auxiliary Unit 170, has reported. A bill to put the program into effect is now before Congress. "We of the American Legion Auxiliary believe, with the war veterans in the American Legion, that the present system of providing trained men for the defense of our nation is both inadequate and unfair," Mrs. Fess said.

Planners Nix Expansion of Boat Maker

Edward Sandler's request to expand his boat-making plant, and to establish retail stores and an apartment at 402 W. 223rd St., was denied Thursday by the Los Angeles Regional Planning Commission. The property is zoned for light agriculture. Since his existing plant is non-conforming to the zone, commissioners felt it would be impossible to force him to abandon the business when the time limit clauses if more buildings were erected. In other action, the commission also denied an application by Ben Joseph to establish two single family residences in addition to the existing house on a 6300 square parcel of land at 20603 New Hampshire Ave. The parcel of land is under minimum size, and no valid building permit is in force, commissioners said.
