

INTO THE WILDERNESS . . . Youngsters got a chance for horseback riding as well as hiking. Together with the leaders, the boys made tours of the area and held one overnight hike. They saw many deer and other animals on their nature hikes.

FOR DIRTY FACES . . . Gathering around the washbasin for the morning ritual of washing hands and faces and brushing teeth are these youngsters on the YMCA trip to

105 Youths from YMCA Answer 'Call of Wild'

Some 105 Torrance youngsters answered the "call of the wild" recently, as the pent a week at Torrance YMCA Camp Round Meadows, high in the San Benardin dountains.

Boys from 8½ to 14 years old enjoyed life in the mountain beauty of the camp, some 16 miles from Redlands, during the week of July 12 to 19. Fourteen Counselors.

members of the Torrance Hi-Y clubs, were on hand to guide the youngsters and check their more dangerous inclinations.

more dangerous inclinations.
The week of camping, hiking, nature study and just plain fun,
was climaxed on Sunday, July 19, with parents' day activities, when 60 fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and other relatives came up to the camp to see what their boys had been doing.

Parents Watch

The proud papas and mames watched as the boys put on a swim carnival, showing what they had learned in a week which included dally swim in structions, both for beginners and more experienced boys The pool is located on the camp site.

Parents also saw a lizard race, featuring tiny animals teaught by boys during the sweek, Each of the 14 cabins I entered an animal in the race, and boys cheered on their favoration, that the same however the same the same than the same that Mothers and fathers also received gifts of all kinds which their offsprings had fashioned for them in craft activities, also held daily at the camp site.

During the week, the youngsters were treated to an exhibition of nature in the raw, going on frequent nature hikes and studying the tall trees, mountain streams, and deer and other wild life in the area.

over the mountain slopes for the boys, and an overnight hike and camping trip to Barton Flats, where boys made their own camp and slept in tents. All sorts of organized sports and the counselors.

Chapels—with worship services led by YMCA Secretary Stan Roberts—were held daily in a clearing surrounded by

Campfire Sessions
In the evenings, there were sessions around the campfire, with story telling activities and a discussion of the day's activity.

At night, the boys tumbled into bed In one of the 14 cabins, each led by a counselor. Daily inspections of the cabins were made by counselors, with demerits and extra duties for those who failed to keep their area clean.

The trip both ways was made

Roberts served as camp di rector, with John Anderson Bill Moore, Bill Oehlert, Pa Makeska, Warren Heaton, Bol Clifford, Myron Schmidt, Jos Hanon, Ed. Hutchinson, Ton Cavanaugh, Roger Davis, Royce Davis, Bob Isbell an Doug Hall serving as cour selors.

Army Pyt, Gene K. Moreno, son of E. F. Moreno, 2843 Danaha St., recently arrived at Dugway Proving Ground, Utah, for duty with the 9771st Technical Service Unit.

Private Moreno was last staloned at Fort Ord, his basic

UP GOES OLD GLORY... Taking down the flag, symbolizing the end of a day's activities, are these Round Meadows youngsters. This was part of the daily ritual at the camp. A daily chapel was provided each day for the boys.

GOOD FOR DUCKS AND BOYS . . . These boys are taking their daily splash in the poc at Round Meadows. Boys were given daily swimming instructions, with a swim carnive climaxing the festivities on Sunday, which was parent's day.

CALL OF THE WILD... In a rustic setting of tall trees and mountain streams, the YMCA youngsters enjoyed a week of hunting, camping, and other outdoor activities at Camp Round Meadows, Shown here is the craft shop, where youngsters made gifts for their parents. They lived in cabins which were constructed similar to the shop. Stan Roberts, YMCA secretary, served as capp director with 14 high school boys acting as counselors.

FIRELIGHT SESSIONS . . . The 105 youngsters — all between 8½ and 14 years old — gathered around the campfire each night for story telling and a discussion of the day