

New Refinery Smog Tests To Be Put Into Operation

Procedures to be used in testing possible new source of air pollution from refineries are about to be put into effect by scientists and engineers of the Air Pollution Control District, working in conjunction with experts from the Federal and State governments, it was disclosed Tuesday by District officials.

The teams have been meeting for several weeks to develop new methods of detecting and analysing refinery emissions, in the battle to track down all contributors to smog.

As part of a six-month program more than 25 sources within refineries will be checked including cooling towers, blowdown stacks, pipe connections, and catalytic cracker flue gases, and plumes.

Blimps from the U. S. Navy base at Santa Ana are to be enlisted in the testing of refinery plumes from the air, where an effort will be made to determine what happens to the plume as it reacts under the influence of sunlight.

Chairman of the Joint District, Federal, and State Project Committee is Carl V. Katter, of the AP CD evaluation and planning staff. Heading various sub-sections are Gay C. Haas, of the Department of Health of the State of California; Victor H. Sussman, of the U. S. Public Health Service; and Gerald Fisher, of General Petroleum Corp., who coordinates the group of Petroleum Industry.

Thespians to Plan Tonight For Future

Report on its next major production will be made to the full membership of ACCENT Theatre, tonight at 8 p.m. at the YWCA, Carson and Plaza del Amo.

A financial statement covering the most recent play, "The Rose Tattoo," will be revealed, according to President Mrs. H. F. Heinlein.

The public is invited to this meeting and also to tryouts for the traveling company of "The Parade at the Devil's Bridge," one-act fantasy which has six performances before service clubs scheduled in the near future. Scene of the try-outs will be the Heinlein residence, 2208 Gramerey Ave., next Tuesday evening.

"All members are urged to turn in ticket money for 'Tattoo,' Mrs. Heinlein said, and to bring all bills which may have been incurred during the last production."

Further information about the meeting and try-outs can be obtained by calling her at FA 8-6130.
