PTA Board Showers Principal, Wife with New Gifts for Baby

By BETTY MITCHELL
DA 6-438

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Artuso were surprised last Thursday evening when the Walteria PTA board gave them a baby pants shower after the regular business meeting.

The meeting and party were held at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Jackson, co-hostesses being Mrs. Helen Herrera and Mrs. Joan Hardecastle. A cleverly made centerpiece for the table was a baby tree surrounded by the many gifts. Sandwiches and cookies made the evening complete.

Those joining in the surprise were Mrs. Georgia Cramer, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Marge Pfau, Mrs. Meddie Fink, Mrs. Mary Jane White, Mrs. Wilma Allen, Mrs. Lucille Burke, Mrs. Betty Maynes, Mrs. Vicki Claska, Dawn Hargis, Mrs. Jessie Gregory, Mrs. Elsie Powell, Mrs. Dora Lewis, Mrs. Joan Skinner, and Glen Hardecastle.

Mrs. Mollie Dowd, of Neece Ave. spent a pleasant week end when she was guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell, of Panorama City.

Mrs. Lillian Doage and her daughter Earlene, of Ward St., spent several days traveling last week when they flew back to Delaware. Reason for visit was illness of Mrs. Doage's parents. The crisis is past and all is well with Mrs. Doage and daughter now back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harner were happy this week when they received word from Mrs. Harner's sister and brother-in-law that a new arrival had made them uncle and aunt again.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pollock, formerly of Madison St. and now of Brea, Calif. now have two children. The new arrival is a girl, Sheila Rae, tipping the scales at 8 lbs. 2 oz.

Ray and Dorothy Stratton, of Dalemad St., had a very interesting day recently when they spent a day touring and visiting a German tanker, the "Robert Weikart." They even had a true German meal for dinner in the captain's quarters.

At the Cricklewood St. home of Danny, Roy, and Robin Roche, several friends came in to enjoy a Halloween party complete with black cats, and pumpkins. The 10 guests came in colorful costumes, adding to the fun, and played Halloween games such as eating donuts off of strings hung from the ceiling and pinning the tail on the cat.

Each place at the table had a "jack-o-lantern" made from hollowed oranges and filled with orange and black jelly beans. In the center of the table was a huge pumpkin jack-o-lantern also filled with the orange and black candies. Popcorn, donuts, orange ice-cream, orange sodas carried out the color theme and satisfied the healthy appetites.

The younger set enjoying this party included David and Jimmy Nannery, Brad John, Danny, Roy, and Robin Roche, Johnny, Charlotte and Susie Davis; and David and Carol Zellner.

Another party for the small citizens was held at the Gene Howell home on Dalemad St.

Little Linda Howell and Eric Stratton were co-hosts to the first graders in their class for this Halloween supper party. Here there were gay black and orange paper streamers with the plates, cups, and napkins all carrying out the Halloween decor. After several games the young guests sat down to a supper with macaroni and cheese, "jack-o-lantern" ham sandwiches, made by cutting faces on the tops of the buns, "scarecrows" made of carrot sticks, celery, and olives with a cracker head, and "witches' brew" of orange juice and elder.
