Crack-Down On Curfew

Deputy sheriffs began a crack-down on curfew violators this week following a proclamation by Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz that the County Ordinance dealing with curfew violations will be more rigidly enforced.

Violations of the Curfew Ordinance are punishable by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment not exceeding 6 months, or by both.

County Ordinance 3611 pertaining to curfew violations reads in part as follows:

"Section 1. Every person under the age of 18 years who loiters about the public streets, avenues, alleys, parks, or public places between the hour of 10 p.m. and the time of sunrise of the following day when not accompanied by his parent or legal guardian having legal custody and control of such person or spouse of such person over 21 years of age, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Section 2. Every parent, guardian, or other person having the legal care, custody, or control of any person under the age of 18 years who allows or permits such person to violate any provision of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor."

CAUGHT OFF GUARD . . . Lovely Jackie Matthews scores a point for Cupid this Valentine's Day as she symbolically aims her blunted foil for the heart of Johnny Gutierrez, both members of the Douglas-Torrance Agullas Fencing Club. Johnny, succumbing to her charms, puts up a poor defense and fails to parry the thrust in time.

Helping Hand Saves Woman During Flood

The torrents of dew that poured on the Torrance area were enough to dampen the spirit of the most hearty, but Mrs. Emma Harris of 2813 1/2 Buckingham Drive, Los Angeles, found that the spirit of a helping hand is not diminished by a little thing like a high tide, the HERALD learned Saturday.

Mrs. Harris, a child care attendant at the Harlan Shoemaker Elementary School for the physically handicapped in San Pedro, was driving north on Western when she momentarily lost control of her car. This, coupled with a loss of brakes, put her in a rather awkward spot.

North High had just completed its school day and students, including Senior Al Legus, were beginning the wet trek homeward. When Al spotted Mrs. Harris' car with water already high enough to enter the doors, he grabbed some of his buddies, Lonel Gillespie, Errol Guilliano, and Dale Hardman and came to the rescue.

With shoes off and pants rolled up above the knees, the boys looked more like grunion hunters than car movers, Mrs. Harris reports. The car, mired in mud and water two feet deep was difficult to budge, but eventually they turned the wheels in the right direction and Mrs. Harris was again on her way.
