

Booster Club Extends New Member Drive to January

A membership drive for the new Torrance Booster Club, organized here this fall, will continue through January, President C. F. Bertolet announced yesterday.

The group, formed with the expressed purpose of supporting student events at Torrance and North High schools, meets at the YMCA building, Arlington and Plaza Del Amo, each Monday evening at 8. A holiday break in the group's meetings has been scheduled after next Monday's meeting, according to Don Rulton, who has been named publicity chairman for the group.

Discussion of the membership drive, and plans to contact residents of the north Torrance and south Torrance areas for membership in the growing organization will hold the spotlight at next Monday's meeting. All residents of the city interested in the student activities of both high schools are being invited to attend the meeting, Bertolet reported.

Aims of the organization as stated by the club's creed include:

1. To attend all regular club meetings;
2. To support student activities;
3. To encourage parent participation.

Horkey Plant Makes Move To Torrance

Horkey Associates, Los Angeles engineering firm, has moved into a 5000 square foot wing at Longren Aireraft Corp's Torrance plant, 24751 S. Crenshaw, in the company's first general expansion program since its organization less than a year ago, according to President Edward J. Horkey.

The move to larger and more complete facilities was made necessary by new and pending contracts, and a continually increasing engineering staff, Horkey said.

Horkey Associates, an engineering research, design and development and associated investigations.
