Merry Music-Loving Mothers Meeting Mainly for Amusement

By RUTH FOSTER
FR 9-5508

If you like to hum at your housework and harmonize with Perry Como's musical renderings perhaps you need a greater outlet for this ability.

Singing mothers are organizing a chorus under Venita Griffith's direction. The initial get-together was very enjoyable. Mrs. Jennie Fuller, (mother of Mrs. Lois Hubacek) accompanied at the piano. The next sing will be held at Carl Steele auditorium Tuesday, Jan. 29,, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. If you wish to bring your preschoolers they will be cared for while you blend your voice with other music lovers.

After the ladies have worked up a few appropriate numbers, wouldn't it be nice if they would call on couples in the Park who are celebrating their anniversaries and serenade them? . . . by candlelight, of course.

Just a wee candlelight burned on the dinner table at Warren Pancake's home the 20th of this month. Little Suzanne was one year old. It happened to be her Grandmother's birthday, also. Just a modest family celebration. Little people like little parties.

Yvonne DeOrio was twe on Ben Franklin's birthday . . . the 17th. She and sister Elaine turned their home at 20028 Burin into quite a fun house, as Susan and Vicki Coleman would agree, being among the invited. Bobby and Gary Golden slipped away from the new baby at their house to join Debbie and Glenn Gauthier and Johnny and Bobbie Cikel for lots of goodies at Yvonne's party.

Six happy young misses stepped into the Hubacek residence recently to assist Jeanne in observing her fifth birthday. They found the party very much to their liking..

Brush up those blue suede shoes boys, there's another Teen-Age Dance Friday, Jan. 25th at the Carl Steele Cafe-chaperones a few columns ago still goes. This is an opportuntorium. The request made for ity for parents to become better acquainted with this age group.

"Let's Get Away From It All", the Don Perry's said to each other during the holidays. So they did. The children . . . Janet, Judy, and Jill, were cared for by their grandmother while their parents retired to a desert retreat. Nothing more demanding than dining and dreaming on the schedule.

"Curb your appetite" the residents of Pruitt St. might be advised soon. They're planning to eat in the street to celebrate the installation of lights shortly. Quite a promotion idea, isn't it? Mrs. R. O. McCaskey, 20110 Pruitt Dr., is in charge.

Along civic lines also, are plans to tour the tract with the floats to be used in the All-America City celebration in Torrance, Saturday. But in order for people to be attracted to the cars passing we need a portable amplifying outfit. Do you know of anyone who has one he would let the Civic Association use that morning? Incidentally, that parade will start downtown at noon. Of course you've read about the dinner and dance. Lots of fuss for a very good reason.

While fox-trotting Torrancellas and their prince charming are capering comfortably at the Torrance American Legion Hall, that big Saturday night Boy Scout Troop 372 will be winter camping. B-rrrrright skies at Pine Canyon (near Lake Hughes) are hoped for when leaders Warren Pancake and Keller Lottermoser take the boys for their overnight trip. Expecting chilly night air the campers expect to keep a fire going outside the tents.

Because her mother was to be out of town and needed someone to take her place, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Watts graciously took their kiddies there to stay until their grandmother's return. Mrs. Watts is about to obtain her driver's license and was pleased to accomplish steps in this direction during the sojourn.

"Water Wonderland" the Michigan license plates state, but it's a safe wager the waters were mostly ice, when Mr. and Mrs. Paul Partello were there during Christmas holidays. With their parents on the vacation and getting rosy cheeks were Paula, Danny, Gary, and Nancy. The family visited in Pontiac, Mich. Their Torrance home is at 18828 Burin.

Flavian School will soon be open and several of the teachers from Carl Steele will be leaving to teach there. With this in mind, the Carl Steele PTA served coffee and cake to many parents and teachers, Tuesday afternoon, in the school cafetorium. It was a friendly, informal affair, at which parents expressed their appreciation for the departing teachers' services. Mrs. Jean Steel was chairman.

Mrs. Kay Duncan was most surprised by a shower given in her honor, Thursday, Jan. 17, at the home of Mrs. Louise Ainsworth, 4631 Halison. A lovely cake, resembling a house in shape, was hovered over by a stork. Twelve ladies presented Mrs. Duncan with gifts. Mrs. Martin Blackburn was co-hostess.

Cunningham to Head Red Cross Fund Campaign in Harbor Area

the Los Angeles chapter, I am sure that Harbor area residents will respond with the enthusiasm needed to put us over the top of our goal," asserted the new chairman.

Associated with Shell Chemical Corp. for the past 20 years, Cunningham lives at 2915 Via La Selva, Palos Verdes, with his wife, Isabel, and their four children, Stephen, 11; Bonnie, 9; Sheila, 6, and John, 5.

To Name Aids

The fund chairman, who is assuming Red Cross campaign leadership responsibility for the first time, has worked with youth groups for several years and is currently a committee chairman for TLARCI (The Los Angeles Rubber Corp., Inc.).

Cunningham reported that he will soon announce the names of those who will serve as his top leadership aides in raising funds throughout the Harbor area communities of Torrance, Gardena, San Pedro, Wilmington, and Palos Verdes.

The Harbor region's 1957 Red Cross fund campaign, in which Torrance and four surrounding communities will take part, will be led by Jack Cunningham of Shell Chemical Corp.

The appointment of Cunningham to the regional campaign's top volunteer position was made by John W. Luhring, chairman of the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter's 1957 campaign for funds.

High optimism — based on enthusiastic volunteer leaders and the performance of the Red Cross service program during the past year—marked Cunningham's comments as he accepted the appointment.
