Red Cross Disaster Plan Outlined for Local Area

A report on Torrance's ability to handle a local disaster was issued this week by Stanley Remelmeyer, volunteer disaster chairman for the Torrance Branch of the American Red Cross.

Remelmeyer's report said 14 school and church buildings in key locations could afford shelter to as many as 4000 persons. Provisions could be made to feed as many as 6300, he reported.

Assisting Remelmeyer in his disaster assignment are Dr. W. H. Lowe and John Kesson, assistant chairmen; George H. Colburn, food chairman; Walter L. Kroneberger Jr., shelter, and Mrs. Walter West, vice chairman of the branch, in charge of a mobile group to prepare food.

Other Help
George Powell, city planning director and assistant director of Civil Defense, will work with the Red Cross on matters of clothing, transportation and communication.

To implement the program, Remelmeyer said volunteer canteen workers are prepared to secure and serve food and that in the event of a serious disaster, National Guard units with field kitchens could be used.

Red Cross help does not end with the provision of food, clothing, and shelter. The organization is available to assist efforts in returning to normal living after the impact of a disaster.

Warriors to Vie For Trophy in Blood Campaign

Students and instructors of El Camino College will roll up their sleeves for the annual blood drive as the National Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the campus April 9.

The Associated Students will award a trophy to the organization contributing the most blood on a percentage basis. Mrs. Ruth Mazak, physical education instructor, has been named as the faculty sponsor for the drive. Assisting her will be students Mary Lynne Daggett and Carol Cooper.

The campaign will begin on March 28 when sign-ups and appointments will be made. On April 9 the bloodmobile will be on campus at the gymnasium where headquarters will be established.

Hours of donation will be from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Students under the age of 21 will be required to present signed parental permission slips before donating blood.

'Present Laughter,' Hampton Players' Show, Continues

A very important "first" for Hampton Players occurred Friday night at 8:30 when they opened the doors of their new little theatre to the public for the first time.

The location was on the second floor of the Daily Breeze, 129 Pacific Ave., Redondo Beach, and the occasion was opening night of their current production, the whimsical Noel Coward play, "Present Laughter." The show will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights for three week ends.

Theater Remodeled
Every effort has been made to provide for the comfort and safety of patrons. Director Bob Farnsworth said. The inner theatre is curtained to insure good acoustics, and seats have been erected on risers to provide a good view of the horse-shoe staged production from any seat in the house.

Regular patrons of Hampton Players will see some familiar faces in the cast. Jim Reeves plays a debonaire actor, Garry, with Pat Rogers as his wife, Liz, and Dorothy Tunis as his intrepid secretary, Monica. Jean Maninger plays one of the hero's many female admirers; Jim Wilson is seen as his confused manager, and Miriam Wilson as his peculiar housekeeper. All these Hampton "regulars" are residents of Torrance.

Ex-Ballet Artist
London-born Diana Mitchell plays the predatory female Joanna. In London, she did ballet at the Drury Lane theatre and dramatic roles in college.

Ronald W. Hellwell, who plays Fred, the valet, also hails from the British Isles, and his first appearance on any stage took place at the age of 3, when he played a "little bird" in one of England's famous pantomimes, "Babes in the Wood."

George Hocutt, who has done night club work as a master of ceremonies back in St. Louis, essays his first role with a little theatre, as Roland Maule, a wild eyed young playwright.

Patricia Coates, who recently directed Palos Verdes Players' successful production, "Anastasia," plays the gushy Lady Saltburn. She has had experience in professional companies in Washington and New York.

Duane Ryan, who plays Garry's friend, Morris, comes back to the Players after a long absence, having had leading roles in El Camino College productions, and more recently spending a considerable amount of time with Uncle Sam's forces in Alaska.

The production is under the direction of Bob Farnsworth, assisted by Thelma Ledwidge. Ticket information and reservations can be had by calling FRontier 5-2985.

PEACE PIPES

The stone used for centuries by the Indians for the making of ceremonial peace pipes is found only in southern Minnesota.

SALES MANAGER . . . C. G. "Bert" Bender, longtime Torrance resident and National Supply Co. employe, has joined the George A. Bradford Co. at 1915 Abalone as sales manager. Bender lives at 2804 Carson St.

The Torrance Police Car Club Assn. is planning an ice-skating trip for the near future. The poker run will be April 7.

Frank Carbaugh started his four-cylinder engine Sunday—it sure sounded nice.

There will be a free trip given to 10 boys in Los Angeles County to the Indianapolis "500" in May. The 10 boys will be chosen on the merits of driving skill. Another trip will go to one of the members of the Torrance Police Car Club Assn. It should be a nice experience.
