

Mrs. Willie McFarland Proves Whiz at Crazy Easter Bonnets

By BETTY MITCHELL

If you haven't acquired that new Easter bonnet yet you might look up Mrs. Willie McFarland of Danaha St., since she has proved herself by the acid test.

She made "crazy" hats for her girls' school hat parade and they both came home with prizes. Cathlene wore a creation complete with a bunny and sequin carrot for the "most" beautiful. Linda wore a styrofoam based carousel with three French poodles and ribbon bedecked extension from which hung a miniature bird-cage with replica canaries. This creation won the "most unusual" prize.

The Walteria Business Men's Club regretfully cancelled the sunrise service which it has sponsored annually at the Walteria Park. There will be no service this year, although they hope to be able to hold it again next year. The club has sponsored this service for a number of years.

Those who missed the general Walteria PTA meeting last Thursday missed a wonderful program. The band showed remarkable progress in their few months of training together and did a fine job of playing, under the direction of C. Baum.

Carrying out the theme, "Bonds of International Friendship," Mrs. J. B. Mosely presented two exchange students brought to study in this country under the American Field Service program.

Giving their listeners a first-hand account of modes of living in their countries as contrasted to our own standards were two students, Krista Volkman, of Vienna, and Karl Hoybye, of Denmark.

The Webelos Den of Cub Pack 240-C presented the colors at the beginning of the meeting. Following a business meeting and the program the parents adjourned for refreshments served by sixth grade mothers, Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Carl Russell.

The Tanda group of Campfire Girls have had very important and interesting meetings for the last two gatherings. At the first meeting the girls elected their officers for the following year. They are: president, Pam Lytle; vice president, Karen Muzier; secretary, Sharon Hopkins; treasurer, Diane Adler, and scribe, Sharon Breniman. These girls have accepted the responsibility of making their recently reorganized group a successful and useful venture.

At their last meeting their sponsor, Mrs. Naomi Nansel, representative of the Walteria Business Women's Club, was feted at a gracious tea planned and executed by three of the girls toward passing a rank.

These very active members were Diane Adler, Joy Bobbling and Sharon Hopkins. The girls served cookies and iced tea to make the affair a delightful afternoon.

Mrs. Nansel proudly wearing the corsage given her by the girls presented the Tandans with a $10 check from their sponsor, the WBWC.

Other members of the club include Earlene Wood, Jackie Farber and Sharon Stilwell.

Tragedy has struck at the Nick Kordich family here in our town again. Their daughter, now Mrs. Jim Britt, and her husband have our deepest sympathies upon the loss of their infant daughter of 2½ months.

The baby died last week from causes unknown and services were held for him on Monday.

Mrs. Britt's brother was lost in the airplane missing near Japan several weeks ago. The Britt's live on Pacific Coast Hwy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parsons were entertaining out-of-state guests last week when Ralph's daughter, Mrs. June Keninger, and daughter Patty of Independence, Mo., visited their Dalemead St. home.

While the Keningers were here they were treated royally including trips to Knott's Berry Farm, Disneyland, and the Wayfarers' Chapel.

Bouquets go again to Frank Taylor, instructor at Walteria School. This time he organized a wonderful camping trip for a group of the boys attending the school and some of the parents.

The camping ground chosen was at Portuguese Bend at a very scenic area near an old army post which pleased the boys no end. Leaving at 5:30 on Saturday night the boys each carried his own food, camping equipment, and all had a rip-roaring good time.

There have been two birthday parties in our town recently which proved a joy to the younger set.

Leslie Greer celebrated her eighth birthday in fine style at her home on Saturday when she had a birthday luncheon with sandwiches, punch, birthday cake in the shape of a beautifully dressed "doll" and Easter bunny ice cream roll.

After the luncheon the girls went merrily off to see "Cinderella" and "The Red Balloon." The happy guests included Leslie—Robin Randall, Nancy Essex, Jeannie Nakano, Trudy Fitzpatrick, Judy Labit, Juanita Roy, Sharon Waegner and Leslie's brothers, Elwin and Brook.

Terri Rae Matthews celebrated her 10th birthday with a bang-up party at her home on Saturday afternoon. Terri Rae had her party in a room festively decorated in the color scheme of pink, blue, yellow and green with the birthday cake carrying out the same colors in flowers on a white background.

After games and refreshments the girls adjourned to the patio for a session of music and dancing. Guests on the list were Denise Rosbottom, Pamela Pinkston, Ruth O'Lawson, Janet South, Rita Hancock, Linda Craine, Janet Grove, Elaine Gomez and Patty Turner.

The bassinette is well filled these days at the 242nd St. home of the Bill Bourassas. They are proud parents of a brand new baby boy who announced his arrival loudly and well at the Gardena Hospital on Thursday.

This little lad tipped the scales at 6 lbs. 15½ ozs.
